

Anglican Orthodox Church Worldwide Communion Sixteenth Sunday after Trinity

Sunday Report

Today we celebrated the Sixteenth Sunday after Trinity. Revs Jack and Hap Arnold were on travel to the AOC Biennial Meeting and were in Enterprise, Alabama celebrating the first day of the week with Bishop and Mrs. Ogles at Saint Andrews Church. The visit was incredible. The congregation is primarily young people, the average age probably 23. The service was a modification of the Morning Prayer service which allowed maximum participation from the congregation. The people were living the service, not just attending! Afterwards a feast! What a stirring experience!

On Point

Someone asked, where do the quotes come from? The answer is from the people who uttered them. But, how did you find them? Oh, that. Some from Bishop Jerry, many from Rev Bryan Dabney, a few from other places, some from Rev Geordie Menzies-Grierson, but overall mostly from Bryan. He always has some great ones to share. On to the On Point quotes –

For what is the hope of the hypocrite, though he hath gained, when God taketh away his soul?

Job 27:8

For what shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?

St. Mark 8:36

I am he that liveth, and was dead; and behold, I am alive for evermore; Amen; and have the keys of hell and of death.

Revelation 1:18

The reason why hypocrites do not persevere in religion is because they have no pleasure in it.

There is a common, worldly kind of Christianity in this day, which many have, and think they have enough—a cheap Christianity which offends nobody, and requires no sacrifice—which costs nothing, and is worth nothing.

Propers

Each Sunday there are Propers: special prayers and readings from the Bible. There is a Collect for the Day; that is a single thought prayer, most written either before the re-founding of the Church of England in the 1540s or written by Bishop Thomas Cranmer, the first Archbishop of Canterbury after the re-founding.

The Collect for the Day is to be read on Sunday and during Morning and Evening Prayer until the next Sunday. The Epistle is normally a reading from one of the various Epistles, or letters, in the New Testament. The Gospel is a reading from one of the Holy Gospels, Matthew, Mark, Luke and John. The Collect is said by the minister as a prayer, the Epistle can be read by either a designated reader (as we do in our church) or by one of the ministers and the Holy Gospel, which during the service in our church is read by an ordained minister.

The propers are the same each year, except if a Red Letter Feast, that is one with propers in the prayerbook, falls on a Sunday, then those propers are to be read instead, except in a White Season, where it is put off. Red Letter Feasts, so called because in the Altar Prayerbooks the titles are in red, are special days. Most of the Red Letter Feasts are dedicated to early saints instrumental in the development of the church, others to special events. Some days are particularly special and the Collect for that day is to be used for an octave (eight days) or an entire season, like Advent or Lent.

The Propers for today are found on Page 212-213, with the Collect first:

The Collect.

O LORD, we beseech thee, let thy continual pity cleanse and defend thy Church; and, because it cannot continue in safety without thy succour, preserve it evermore by thy help and goodness; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Today's Epistle came from Paul's Letter to the Ephesians, the Third Chapter beginning at the Thirteenth Verse. Paul, writing to the church in Ephesus, prays that the people might "be strengthened with might by his Spirit in the inner man; that Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith; that ye, being rooted and grounded in love, may be able to comprehend with all saints what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height; and to know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that ye might be filled with all the fullness of God." More simply put, Paul asks that we open our hearts to God and to Christ, that they might work in our hearts the miracle of love.

I DESIRE that ye faint not at my tribulations for you, which is your glory. For this cause I bow my knees unto the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, of whom the whole family in heaven and earth is named, that he would grant you, according to the riches of his glory, to be strengthened with might by his Spirit in the inner man; that Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith; that ye, being rooted and grounded in love, may be able to comprehend with all saints what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height; and to know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that ye might be filled with all the fullness of God. Now unto him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us, unto him be glory in the church by Christ Jesus throughout all ages, world without end. Amen.

Today's Holy Gospel started in the Seventh Chapter of the Gospel according to St. Luke, beginning at the Eleventh Verse. Jesus was going into the city of Nain with his disciples and many followers. "When he came nigh to the gate of the city, behold, there was a dead man carried out, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and much people of the city was with her." In those days, a widow with only one son had little, a widow with no son was in deep trouble. Taking compassion on her and also the opportunity to make His power evident, He came to the bier, and touch it said, "Young man, I say unto thee, Arise." The young man arose and began to speak; whereupon Jesus brought him to his mother. Not surprisingly, news of this event was spread "forth throughout all Judæa, and throughout all the region round about." Like the young man, we are dead to eternity until we hear the command "... Arise." If we hear and act on that command, we have eternal life, just like the young man, it starts right then!

AND it came to pass the day after, that Jesus went into a city called Nain; and many of his disciples went with him, and much people. Now when he came nigh to the gate of the city, behold, there was a dead man carried out, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and much people of the city was with her.

And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said unto her, Weep not. And he came and touched the bier: and they that bare him stood still. And he said, Young man, I say unto thee, Arise. And he that was dead sat up, and began to speak. And he delivered him to his mother. And there came a fear on all: and they glorified God, saying, That a great prophet is risen up among us; and, That God hath visited his people. And this rumour of him went forth throughout all Judæa, and throughout all the region round about.

We are off fortunate to get copies of Bishop Jerry's sermon notes. Today is one of those Sundays. Today's sermon starts off with the collect, and like always, it will give you a lot to consider in your heart.

St. Luke vii. 11- 17

AND it came to pass the day after, that Jesus went into a city called Nain; and many of his disciples went with him, and much people. Now when he came nigh to the gate of the city, behold, there was a dead man carried out, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and much people of the city was with her. Funeral directors hate to see Christ coming, because their business fails, and those who are dead simply will not stay dead.

Two things cannot abide the Presence of Christ: Darkness and Death for He is the Fountain of Life, and the Light of the World.

On the day before this incident in today's Gospel, Jesus had healed the servant of the Centurion due to the Centurion's great faith.

Now He comes to a city named Nain – meaning BEAUTIFUL. It was beside Mount Tabor and the River Gison. But though the setting is beautiful, there is great sorrow and mourning in Nain today. The only son of a widow woman had died.

Outward beauty does not necessarily lead to inward joy.

The young man was all that the widow had left in Nain – and in the world. Now, like her husband, this young man too had died. Such sorrow of the mother cannot be imagined by those who have not suffered a similar loss. Her entire life was lying dead on a funeral bier. Now, instead of seeing grandchildren being born of him, she followed on to the sad destination of a grave in Beautiful Nain.

Death, too, is abject darkness – and it has its origin in the works of Satan at the Garden in Eden.

Now comes Light and Life in the form of Jesus Christ to the gates of the city.

In Christ, death has no being – it is only a sleep and not a cessation of life.

AND it came to pass the day after (the Centurion's servant healed at Capernaum), that Jesus went into a city called Nain; and many of his disciples went with him (not only the apostles, but many other followers), and much people (some out of faith, others out of curiosity).

Today, too, many follow Jesus – even in churches - for the wrong reason – curiosity, social or business advantage, and pride.

Now when he came nigh to the gate of the city, behold, there was a dead man carried out, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and much people of the city was with her.

Just the day before, Jesus had healed a sick man owing to the faith of his master. Today He will raise a man to life without any expression of faith whatsoever. Why?

First, of all, Jesus saw the great mourning of the widow and others, and took compassion on her. Love will overcome every barrier – even a failure of faith.

Secondly, the dead know nothing at all. They are unable to respond in faith. This is true of the physically living sinner who is dead in trespasses and sin. He is unable to turn and of his own power in faith.

In the face of inordinate grief, the Lord does not lay the woman's sin to her charge as a perquisite to satisfy the longings of her heart.

And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said unto her, Weep not. When the Lord appears on the scene, there is never need for weeping. He always comforts the hurting without reservation.

And he came and touched the bier: and they that bare him stood still. All that Christ touches stands still in awe of Him. There is nothing dead that can remain so when Christ touches it.

And he said, Young man, I say unto thee, Arise. And he that was dead sat up, and began to speak. And he delivered him to his mother. Jesus spoke directly to the young man; else every grave in the land would have been opened. He speaks to the dead, ARISE!

Those whom He calls from the death of sin, He calls to ARISE from their pig sties and come unto Him. Jesus restores to the believer what death takes away, for in Christ, there is no death – only a sleeping.

The early beginning of faith starts with fear, “And there came a fear on all: and they glorified God, saying, That a great prophet is risen up among us; and, That God hath visited his people.” And faith ends with glorifying God.

What was the result of this miracle? Remember, there was no telephone or television in those days – no radio or newspapers: “And this rumour of him went forth throughout all Judaea, and throughout all the region round about.” Not only was the news wafted about in Judaea, but all around that entire region of Palestine – and all by means of witnesses testifying to what Jesus had done.

What about you? Are your tongues frozen, or do you share this good news of Christ with all who will listen?

*Sermon – Reverend Jack Arnold - Time and Action
Church of the Faithful Centurion - Descanso, California*

Today’s sermon tied the Collect, Epistle and Gospel together and talked, as is oft the case, of the need for action, not simply diction.

Consider the words of the Collect, “...let thy continual pity cleanse and defend thy Church; and, because it cannot continue in safety without thy succour, preserve it evermore by thy help and goodness ...”

When the Collect talks about the church, just like last week, it is not talking about buildings; it is talking about us. Each of us; all of us and together. We need God’s help (pity) to keep the group of us together following His Will, for without His Help (Holy Ghost) we are doomed to utter failure. We can see this in the church today. Many churches are leaving the Bible used for over 2,000 years and adopting newfangled translations which mangle His Word. When they leave the theology Christ gave to us, they soon find they are on a broad easy path paved with smooth talking New Age pagan theology. The problem is that Heaven is at the end of a hard and narrow uphill trail. The easy downhill trail does not lead to the summit. That seemingly easy way leads to the Pit. The way of the easy to read Bibles with their corrupt non Received Text manuscripts is not the way to go. This proves the truth of this collect, that without His help, we are doomed. With His Help, we are set for success for evermore. He offers, do we accept?

That leads us to Saint Paul’s point: If we will open our hearts to God, He will send the Holy Ghost to fill our hearts with Love, Courage, Inspiration, Tenacity and Confidence, to mention just a few helpful additions to our portfolio. In short, all of the things that will help our character development. He offers all of these things for our benefit, so that we will be successful for Him. We have to accept this offer by opening our hearts to Him. One of my favorite cartoon strips Calvin and Hobbes, oft has great moral lessons. Calvin’s dad so very often reminds Calvin that doing one’s duty in the face of adversity builds character. It also strengthens the soul building trust in God. If we will open our hearts to Him, our ears will hear the command “... Arise.” When we rise, we rise with the confidence of immortals and can conquer any obstacle. We will have died in our old sinful ways and are resurrected like our Lord in a new spirit and a new birth of everlasting freedom. But, without an open heart, our ears will never hear the command directed to our soul, "... Arise." We will be dead to eternity. There are none so deaf as those who will not hear.

Open your heart to our Lord and arise. Arise; go forth with Love, Courage, Inspiration, Tenacity and Confidence to fight the battle our Lord leads us into.

All Jesus asks is that we follow Him. That is all follow Him. But, words mean something. The word follow is very important.

I have heard my dad say many times in the military fighter world the strongest acceptance and recognition of excellence that can be given is, "You lead; I'll follow." For to do so is to put your life in the other's hands. Literally, completely and without question. It is a matter of putting the light on the star and hanging in there. It is said by few to an even smaller number. When you break out of the cloud after an hour of GE-28 Volt burning in your retina and see the runway or pop over the ridge after a half hour of dodging trees and triple A and the target is right there in the reticle, or gunsight, it is all okay. Sometimes in between, it does not seem like it will turn out that way. What makes you keep the light on the star is trust. Just like the Marines in World War II had to put their trust in their squad/platoon/company leader that they would be able to outfight the Japanese for example. Even through the hell of battle, they surely must have felt relief when they were able to finally push the Japanese out of the islands. Like them, we have to trust God to get us through whatever hell the enemy can throw at us. I see this as another aspect of that truth. The numbers are different in the case of God. We all (unlikely to happen) need to put our lives in the hands of a small number (that would be ONE).

We need recognize who has the ability, the power, the perfection in leadership and have that trust to say, "You lead; I'll follow." I believe that is what Jesus expects from us in regard to our entire life. We may get out of position or even go lost wingman on the odd occasion, but he expects us to Our very best to follow His lead and stay in position. Hard to do if your eye is not padlocked on Him.

I might add, as ministers of our Lord, we have a similar responsibility to those who would follow us here on earth. And we have to work even harder, for created by a perfect God, we are imperfect creatures with free will. A problematic combination. We must strive for a correct attitude, heading, stability and predictability in our path so that we can be followed towards that final destination that marks a successful mission. We must always be checking our navigational instruments of the Holy Scriptures and our navigator the Holy Ghost, to ensure that we are following on the right heading.

When Saint Luke relates the story of the Widow of Nain, it is more than just a simple miracle.

In those days, a widow with only one son had little, a widow with no son was in deep trouble. Jesus took compassion on her and also took the opportunity to make His power evident. He came to the bier, and touched it saying, "Young man, I say unto thee, Arise." The young man arose and began to speak; whereupon Jesus brought him to his mother. Not surprisingly, news of this event was spread "forth throughout all Judæa, and throughout all the region round about." Like the young man, we are dead to eternity until we hear the command "... Arise." If we hear and act on that command, we have eternal life, just like the young man, it starts right then! Eternal life doesn't start when you take your last breath, it starts when you take your first breath!

Also, please take note Jesus ACTED. He did not just tell the widow He was sorry, so very sorry; He actually did what He could to help her. He can do more than we can, but we can do more than we do and we can certainly do more than just talk. Words are very nice, but do not mean a whole lot unless they are backed by words.

If we truly have faith, then we will have good actions that will follow with that faith. If we only speak with our lips and do not have good actions, then we do not have any faith. However, if we do truly have faith, then we will speak the right things and do the right things.

Action, not diction, is what counts in the end.

Heaven is at the end of a hard and narrow uphill trail. The easy downhill trail does not lead to the summit.

The time is now, not tomorrow. The time has come, indeed. How will you ACT?

It is by our actions we are known.

Be of God - Live of God - Act of God

Sermon – Reverend Hap Arnold - Time and Action Church of the Faithful Centurion - Descanso, California

Rev Jack tied the Collect, Epistle and Gospel together today. I just want to take a few minutes to talk more about the Gospel. First, Saint Luke, the physician, wrote one long book, because books were written on scrolls in those days, the book was too big. So, it was a two scroll book. We know the first scroll as the Book of Luke. The second is called The Acts of the Apostles.

Acts, not thoughts, words, meditations, hopes, dreams, worries. Actually in both books, Luke describes ACTS.

When you read the Bible, notice it is about ACTION, not DICTION. It is what you do that counts, not what you claim to believe.

There is a lot of talk among Christians about salvation. Are we saved because Christ somehow makes us better people? To use one of Saint Paul's favorite phrases, "God forbid." It is through Christ's faith and our confession of that faith that we are saved. Through Him we gain eternal life. Eternal life, by the way, starts now; not at death. A side note, are you living as if you will live forever? Your life does not end when your body "gives up the Ghost." You will live on in your true home. You want to live so it is a pleasant home.

So, what of good works? Can you get into heaven by doing good works?

NO

So, I don't need to do good works?

NO

You need to believe on the name of our Lord Jesus Christ and keep His Commandments.

What that means is that if you actually believe, your nature will be to do good things, thus while you are saved by faith alone, once saved you are going to do good things?

So, what does all this have to do with the Gospel?

As Jesus came into Nain, a funeral procession was coming out. A widow had lost her only son. Today loss of a son, an only son at that, is devastating. For a widow to lose her son, even worse as she then has little to rely on. In those days, there was not only the spiritual problem, but a financial one. There were no social services or public aid, if your family did not take care of you, you starved. Her end was near.

Jesus saw this and ACTED. He did not merely tell her how sorry He was, how things could get better. He MADE them better.

In a sense, without Him in our lives, we are dead men walking. Our time here on earth will be over and we go into the Pit. As with the widow's son, Jesus offers to raise us from the dead into a life which goes on through eternity.

His offer, our choice.

Will you accept His offer of life? Will you sit up and speak?

Would you prefer the "comfort of death" or the luxury of life?

I know you have heard this before and recently at that, but:

Action, not diction, is what counts.

Heaven is at the end of a hard and narrow uphill trail. The easy downhill trail does not lead to the summit.

The time is now, not tomorrow. The time has come, indeed. How will you ACT?

It is by our actions we are known.

Luke 7:11-17

Sixteenth Sunday after Trinity

October 5, 2014

Before we begin to look at the Scriptures for today I ask you to turn to page 212 of the Prayer Book and look at the Collect for today, the Sixteenth Sunday after Trinity. As Anglicans we follow an annual cycle of prayer, worship, and Scripture reading. This is a practice followed by God's people for many thousands of years, and it is part of our identity as Holy Trinity Anglican Church and as members of the Anglican Orthodox Church. This is a wonderful blessing, for in the cycle of prayer we are guided and instructed in the faith once delivered to the saints. We are not simply left to our own devices to learn the Bible's content and meaning. We are led into the Word in a way that helps us learn its content and its message, and, at the same time, makes it part of the way we think, and respond to life and God. The more you follow our cycle of worship and Scripture, the more you will understand the Bible, and, the more you understand the Bible, the more you will be filled with the fullness of God. This takes some effort and perseverance. Actually, it takes years of hard work and dedication. So, if you seem to be floundering a little, be patient and keep going. The rewards are worth the effort.

Each week of the cycle of prayer begins with Sunday, of course, and assumes that the people of God will not forsake the assembly, but will come together to worship God. Each Sunday is assigned Scripture readings and a Collect, which is a prayer that sets forth the doctrine, Scriptural event, or exhortation for that Sunday, and the week that follows. Sometimes the connection between the Collect and the Scriptures is plain and obvious. Sometimes it is less obvious, and today, I think, is one of those less obvious days. So let's look at the Collect for today. Please read and listen thoughtfully as I read it aloud.

O LORD, we beseech thee, let thy continual pity cleanse and defend thy Church; and, because it cannot continue in safety without thy succour, preserve it evermore by thy help and goodness; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The point of the Collect, and the Scriptures for this morning, is that God is able and willing to continually cleanse, defend, succour, and preserve His Church by His continual help and goodness. Let me show how this point is made.

First, we are shown that God is able to help us. This is shown first in the Epistle, Ephesians 3:13-21. The Apostle Paul, who was the human utensil through whom God gave the Book of Ephesians, tells us God is with him even in his tribulations. Paul's tribulations were many. He lost everything in the service of Christ; he was persecuted, stoned and beaten, shipwrecked, imprisoned, and finally executed for being a Christian. Yet he endured it all with a peaceful heart, writing in Romans 8:18 that the "sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us." He does not promise that God will keep us from the pains and trials of life. He does tell us we can be strengthened by His Spirit in the inner man, that we can have Christ dwelling in our hearts by faith, that we can be rooted and grounded in love, that we can be enabled to understand the great things of the mysteries of God, that we can know the love of Christ, and that we, you and I, sinners that we are, unworthy as we are, can be filled with all the fullness of God (Eph. 3:16-19). These are powerful statements. These are staggering words. I think that if we ever felt their full impact it would be like being hit by a train, except the result would not be pain and death, it would be life and joy. Can these things be true? Yes, God is able to do them. He is able to do "exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think" (Eph 3:20).

Second, the ability of Christ to help us is shown in the raising of the dead man. There is such a tender encouragement to faith in these verses of Luke's Gospel. We see Christ's compassion on the man and his mother, just as He has compassion on us in our physical and spiritual needs. We see Christ move intentionally to the man, just as He intentionally comes to us in the Incarnation, in His Word, Spirit, and the means of grace. We see Him touch the bier, as He touches our lives with His love and healing. We hear Him speak, "Arise," just as He calls us to arise from our spiritual death in trespasses and sins. And He delivers him to His mother, just as He delivers all who believe and trust in Him to His Father in Heaven forever.

The man had been dead for three days. His flesh was showing signs that he was not sleeping or in a coma. He was dead. Only God can restore life to such a corpse. Thus the people were correct who said, "God hath visited His people" (Lk. 7:16). Surely such a One as this is able to succour and help His people no matter what trials we may face. "Our God whom we serve is able to deliver" (Dan. 3:17).

To be able to do something is one thing; to be willing is something else. Indeed to be able is almost meaningless if one is unwilling. But our Lord is both able and willing to help us. Our reading from Luke's Gospel today was chosen carefully because it shows that Christ is willing. Most people, hearing me say that, will think I am referring to the Lord's compassion and raising of the dead man. Indeed there is great willingness to help seen here. Our Lord was not asked to help this man. No one came to Him to seek His aid. The people probably thought He couldn't help, for, though He had healed many sick, He had not raised anyone from the dead at this point in His ministry. So the people probably never thought of asking Him to raise this man. Jesus took the initiative. Jesus went to the funeral bier. Jesus touched the man. Jesus gave life to the body. He was the initiator. He was proactive. He acted on the basis of His compassion. He is willing.

But something else in the passage also shows the willingness of Christ, and it is what I really want to emphasise today. It is found in the words of the witnesses, "God hath visited His people." To "visit," in this case, means to come with the intention of caring for someone or something. It is to come with the intention of making things right, of helping. It means that Christ came into this world to help us. He came primarily to help us spiritually. He came into the world to seek and to save that which was lost. He came to save sinners. He came to give His life as the ransom for our sins. He came to take us back to God. Indeed, God was in Christ reconciling the world unto Himself. But He also came to help us in this world, in all our troubles and needs and sorrows, and joys. "Come unto me... and I will give you rest" is a promise for both this world and the next, and when He exhorted us to consider the lilies wasn't He promising to be with us and care for us in this world?

And so we come to the conclusion, which is simply, seek Him, and trust Him. Seek Him in time of trouble. Ask Him to help you bear your burdens. Ask Him to help you bear your sorrows and problems. Ask Him to make you strong to bear your cross. Ask Him to help you be content in whatever circumstances He places you. Ask Him to help you believe that all things work together for good to those who love Him. Run to Him and seek His help. "Seek and ye shall find."

And then, trust Him. I think trust is the real message I am trying to get across today. It is the message of the Scripture texts and it is the message of the Collect. Why would we pray that God would help and succour us if we do not trust Him to actually do it? Why would the Bible tell us of a willing and able Saviour if it does not mean for us to trust in Him? Dearly beloved, I beseech you, seek and trust His help. Truly pray with me,

O LORD, we beseech thee, let thy continual pity cleanse and defend thy Church; and, because it cannot continue in safety without thy succour, preserve it evermore by thy help and goodness; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Rev Bryan Dabney of Saint John's Sunday Sermon

We are fortunate to have Bryan's Sunday Sermon. If you want people to come to The Truth, you have to speak the truth, expound the truth and live the truth. This is really a good piece and I commend it to your careful reading.

Sixteenth Sunday after Trinity

In today's epistle we heard the hopeful words of the apostle: ...that Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith; that ye, being rooted and grounded in love, may be able to comprehend with all saints what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height; to know the love of Christ which passeth knowledge, that ye might be filled with the fulness of God (Ephesians 3:17-18). St. Paul then went on to pen the following uplifting affirmation (Ephesians 3:20-21): Now unto him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us, unto him be glory in the church by Christ Jesus throughout all ages, world without end. Amen. The Rev. Matthew Henry once noted that, "There is an inexhaustible fullness of grace and mercy in God which the prayers of all the saints can never draw dry. Whatever we may ask or think, still God is able to do more, abundantly more. We should encourage our faith by a consideration of his all-sufficiency and almighty power."

In another place, the apostle Paul advised Christians to ... put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make not provision for the flesh, to fulfil the lusts thereof (Romans 13:14). In our reliance upon God, we ought to avoid asking for those things which will merely slake our lusts. God knows what we are asking for, and he knows what the consequences will be should he give them to us. If we are asking amiss then we cannot expect such requests to be answered in the affirmative.

There is also an attendant matter with regard to our petitioning of God. If we expect him to fulfil our requests, then it is incumbent on us to accept that God is who he says he is as found within the pages of Scripture. In his first epistle, St. John wrote: Hereby know ye the Spirit of God: Every spirit that confesseth that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is of God... (4:2) He also noted that, Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God dwelleth in him, and he in God (4:15). Now one might think that every person who claims to be a Christian would be in agreement with these fundamentals of the faith. No doubt some still do. Nevertheless, there are a sizeable number who do not. These infidels have managed to gain control over the principal denominations of the modern church and are using them to peddle their false doctrines that cloud men's minds and thus keep them from discerning the true doctrines of Christianity. Said persons deny our Lord's virgin birth, resurrection, and ascension. They doubt that he will come again to judge and to rule over the earth. They denigrate Scripture by saying it is a compilation of myths, sagas or legends. They believe that the gospel writers spoke only of a man called Jesus—a good teacher who was executed by the Romans—but not the living Lord who rose again from death to life that Easter morn so long ago. They cannot teach a saving faith in the only begotten Son of God because they do not accept the living Christ as their Saviour.

Consider the survey which the Barna Group conducted awhile back regarding biblical truths. The participants were asked if they agreed with the following six statements:

1. Absolute moral truth exists;
2. The Bible is completely accurate in all of the principles it teaches;

3. Satan is a real being;
4. A person cannot earn their way into Heaven by trying to be good or by doing good works;
5. Jesus Christ lived a sinless life on earth;
6. God is the all-knowing, all powerful creator of the world who still rules the universe today.

Barna found that less than one percent of the participants agreed with all of those statements. That is disheartening to say the least because nearly every point mentioned by Barna was once an established teaching for much of the Christian Church nearly a century ago.

But Barna has not been the first to highlight the growing lack of faith in orthodox Christian teaching. Back in 1965, John Stormer warned about the growth of apostasy within the churches in his book entitled None Dare Call It Treason (pp. 131-132) wherein he noted that, "Redbook Magazine, in its August 1961 issue, published an article... based on interviews with 100 students at eight seminaries [which] found, 'that 56% of... ministerial students do not believe in the virgin birth of Jesus Christ... that 11% [denied] the divinity of Jesus... that many of the 89% who [affirmed the divinity of Jesus] wanted to define divinity to suit themselves. Belief in the immortality of man ranked as a major belief of only 2% and only 1% were convinced there will be a Second Coming of Christ... Only 29% believe in a real heaven and hell, 46% believe that Jesus ascended physically into heaven as described in [the gospel accounts].'" Rev. Stormer noted parenthetically that the last point revealed a contradiction in that "twice as many reported believing in the Ascension into heaven as believe in heaven." He then went on to credit "Modernist theologians" for their role in the furtherance of apostasy via their denial of the Bible's supernatural origins.

The Rev. EM Bounds once observed that, "The church is distinctly, preeminently, and absolutely a spiritual institution... Her ministers and doctrines have appeal, relevance, and power only when they are channels of the Holy Spirit. It is his indwelling and inspiration that give the church its divine character and accomplish its divine purposes." And what purposes has it been called to carry forth? Bounds supplied the answer: "Its purpose is to regenerate and sanctify the individual, to prepare him by purifying and training him for the high pursuits of eternal life. The church is like a net cast into the sea. The purpose is not to change the sea but to catch the fish... What if fishermen spent all their energies trying by some chemical process to change the essential elements of the sea, vainly hoping to improve the stock of fish? They would never catch any fish! If the church used this method, personal holiness would be impossible, and heaven would be stricken from our creed, life and hope. To attempt to save the world while ignoring the individual is not only Utopian but also destructive in every way."

St. John also reminded us in his first epistle to, Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever (2:15-17). How can Christ dwell in those who love the world in opposition to the expressed will of God the Father? He cannot. How can said folk understand the absolute need for salvation which Jesus Christ provides through his atoning work on Calvary's cross? They cannot.

The truth is that modern, Laodicean Christianity proclaims a flawed Jesus, relies on a compromised bible, and rejoices in a useless religion fit only to be cast out. Such churches are powerless to successfully proclaim the gospel without the permission of the Holy Ghost who will not assist them in their futile efforts. Why are so many young people leaving those churches? Because Modernist Christianity has so denigrated its doctrines and tenets as to render it a fruitless exercise. As the apostle Paul noted in his first epistle to the Corinthians, ...if there be no resurrection of the dead, then is Christ not risen: and if Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain, and your faith is also vain (15:14)... And if Christ be not raised (15:17)... then they also which are fallen asleep in Christ are perished. If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men most miserable (15:18-19). Why follow the dead Christ of myth and legend which the modernist church teaches its congregants? From the Redbook and Barna Group surveys, we can clearly see that the path of apostasy by the Modernists has led to the wholesale rejection of Biblical Christianity which has, in turn, opened the door to a whole host of pagan cults and practices from man's ancient past. The early twentieth century writer, G. K. Chesterton once noted that, "When a man ceases to believe in God, he does not believe in nothing. He believes in anything." And so with the rejection of God comes the worship of all sorts of things and none of them will do the worshiper any good.

If one would have the benefits of the Christian religion, one must recognize that the true Christ of faith is the same as the Christ of history. One does not cancel out the other. To have Christ dwell in one's heart, one must accept Jesus Christ as the risen Lord—the only begotten Son of God—and then seek God's pardon for sin in his name. God expects us to come to him in faith believing, not in the faithlessness of unbelief.

Time is short, my friends, and there is no guarantee of success in winning those deceived back from the world, the flesh and the devil. If we are to have any success, we must present to the lost a clear and consistent gospel message that says what it means and means what it says. But such will not be devoid of difficulty. The Devil and his minions have done much to prepare the ground of their hearts for the bad seed of the world as opposed to the good seed of the Word. They have labored to spread tares among the wheat, bad fish among the good, apostates among the saints, and ravening wolves versus the true pastors and shepherds of our Lord. They have won victory after victory within the various denominations and now are poised to sweep away the last vestiges of sound doctrine within the very near future.

Nevertheless, we must not lose hope. Our Lord proclaimed that the Church cannot be overcome by evil, neither shall the gates of hell prevail against it. In spite of the seeming triumph of our adversary, we ought to have confidence that our Lord will prevail against the forces of darkness. God foresaw the rise of evil, has judged it, and will call an end to it in his time. Our duty is to occupy until he comes for us. The wretched figment of the modernist church is but the synagogue of Satan. It has no real power to save, and has only the power to destroy those of its membership. God's wrath will fall upon it much as he poured out his fury on Sodom and Gomorrah. Our job is to call out to the righteous who, like Lot, have had their souls vexed by the things they have witnessed within those churches.

If Christ dwells in us, then we must preach the word: be instant in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all longsuffering and doctrine. For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine; but after their own lusts shall they heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears; and they shall turn away their ears from the truth, and shall be turned unto fables (II St. Timothy 4:2- 4). Without a doubt we are in such times as the apostle Paul has described. If we love the Lord, we will follow his word and commandment. Seek therefore then to be a beacon for the gospel. Spread the true message of Christ to those around you and live as becomes the name "Christian" proving that Jesus Christ does indeed dwell within your heart.

Let us pray,

HOLY and gracious God, grant to us the courage and the wherewithal to spread the truth of the gospel of Christ to those who are as yet in darkness and the shadow of death; that they being so informed might turn unto thee and give thee thanks for the free gift of salvation in his name; all of which we ask in the very name of thy Son and our Saviour, Jesus Christ. Amen.

Have a blessed week, Bryan+

After Church Hospitality

We need snack pictures! Come on, help us out!

People in our Prayers - <http://faithfulcenturionprayerteam.blogspot.com/>

Why? Prayer is an extremely important activity.

It is not that God knows not our needs, for He surely does. Yet, Jesus commanded us to ask God for those same needs. In addition to the obvious of asking God for help, offering thanksgiving and the like, prayer helps us focus our thoughts on how we might do God's work.

The Prayer Team of the Church of the Faithful Centurion was established to help our members and fellow Christians pray for those in need and to give thanks as well for the blessings we have been granted.

Who can be on the list? Do I have to be a member of the Church of the Faithful Centurion to be prayed for?

No! The only qualification to be on the list is that you want our prayer team to pray for you. We are Christians and are happy to pray for you, no matter who you are. If you want help from God, you are our kind of people.

What is the commitment from the prayer team?

Each member of the team will pray for the desired outcome at last once per day.

How do I get myself or someone else on the prayer list?

You can email one of the prayer team leaders: Jack - jack@faithfulcenturion.org or Dru - dru@faithfulcenturion.org, or call the church office at (619) 659-3608 or fill out a prayer card at church.

What should I ask for?

Depends on what you want. Some people merely want God to be asked to heal their ills and be mentioned by their first name, others want a specific outcome and / or have more of their personal information known to the team. Ask for what you want. It is your desire and need for prayer the team is attempting to meet. For typical examples, see the list below.

Updating the Team

If you are on our prayer list, or if you have submitted a person that you have asked us to pray for, please update one of the team members or Hap in person, by telephone or email. It helps to be able to pray specifically for these individuals including their specific needs; plus if they get better, it is nice to give thanks!

Please note that on the yellow (maybe green or orange if you get an old one) cards at church, you can ask that those to be prayed for have their names disseminated to the prayer team. Those names will be said in church and appear here. Or, you can ask that their names and purpose be kept confidential, then only Hap will know to pray for them.

Prayer List Notice – If you have someone on the prayer list and their needs have changed, please let us know. We'd like to update our prayers to reflect the need and most important to give thanks!

From Bishop John Nakka of our Church Family in South India. We must know, but by the grace of God, we could, and may, experience the same in our own land:

Dear ALL,

I am so painfully writing this mail as we are very very suffering a lot politically and also due to separation of our State. No power for around 10 to 12 hours in the cities and more than 12 hours in the villages. No enough drinking water, very hot summer.... Politically we are now really afraid as the sectarian hindu religious background parties took over the Union and State Governments. We are a religious minority in India and now our hearts started beating fast and do not know what happened for us in the near future. WE ARE REALLY UNFORTUNATE. We may live like a second grade citizens and we need to face a very hard persecution as was the Hebrews in Egypt. The persecution was already started and around 05 issues were reported for abuse, warnings and stopping the conventions etc., during this week alone i.e., just within a week after Mr.Modi took over the charge.

PLEASE PRAY FOR CHRISTIANS IN INDIA.

yours fraternally in Christ,

+John.

The Anglican Orthodox Church in Narowal, Pakistan had its wall boundary collapse due to heavy rain on 5 July 2014. Christians in the Central African Republic are experiencing the ravages of a war between Saint Joseph of Arimathea Anglican Orthodox Church is under a lot of stress. We all are, but they need even more prayer. Rev Roger Jessup, their wonderful minister, is pressed by the duties of a primary care giver, in addition to all the worries of this world. They have one of their family's primary breadwinners who will be soon unemployed, absent His intervention. As Rev Roger said so eloquently, "We must pray for those who mean us harm and deprive us of our property are our enemies: Our LORD has so commanded us." We must pray they will see light and cleave to it while turning their backs on the Prince of this World. Equally important, we must pray that the Lord will raise up a political leader from among us as He has done in the past. Pray also for trust in God for each member of the parish and for them to find economic relief.

Armed Forces & Contractors

For Our Country

Our country has lost its way. Over half the people that vote, voted for a government that promises them things it cannot deliver in return for their souls which it can, will and does take. Our foreign policy backs the rise of Islam, we turn our backs on those who would follow God and arm those who murder them. Pray that God will raise up a leader from among the people who can turn the country's course 180° and attempt to come back to God. Pray the people will recognize that they are headed down a smooth wide road into the pit, a road that will get smoother and smoother, steeper and steeper until the only possible way is down. Down, into the depths of the pit. Pray people will recognize there is:

- One True and Triune God who is goodness in and of Himself
- All religions are not equal
- All ways of life are not equal;
- The Bible holds the Key to Life;
- All rights come from God, not the State;
- Good;
- Bad;
- Evil;
- Right;
- Wrong;
- Allah is the Devil;
- Abortion is no more than sacrifice of children to Baal.

Pray this recognition will not come too late. Pray we will, each of us, do our duty to God, Country and Family, putting His Honor above all.
