Sunday Report

Today was the Second Sunday in Advent.

On Point

Someone asked, where do the quotes come from? The answer is from the people who uttered them. But, how did you find them? Oh, that. Some from Bishop Jerry, many from Rev Bryan Dabney, a few from other places, some from Rev Geordie Menzies-Grierson, but overall mostly from Bryan. He always has some great ones to share. On to the On Point quotes –

On the Incarnation

The Second Person in God, the Son, became human Himself: was born into the world as an actual man—a real man of a particular height, with hair of a particular colour, speaking a particular language, weighing so many stone. The Eternal Being, who knows everything and who created the whole universe, became not only a man but (before that) a baby, and before that a foetus inside a Woman's body. If you want to get the hang of it, think how you would like to become a slug or a crab.

Cesare Beccaria

There are none so deaf as those who will not hear

When the Lion had first begun singing, long ago when it was still quite dark, [Uncle Andrew] had realized that the noise was a song. And he had disliked the song very much. It made him think and feel things he did not want to think and feel. Then, when the sun rose and he saw that the singer was a lion ("only a lion," as he said to himself) he tried his hardest to make believe that it wasn't singing and never had been singing—only roaring as any lion might in a zoo in our own world. "Of course it can't really have been singing," he thought, "I must have imagined it. I've been letting my nerves get out of order. Who ever heard of a lion singing?" And the longer and more beautifully the Lion sang, the harder Uncle Andrew tried to make himself believe that he could hear nothing but roaring. Now the trouble about trying to make yourself stupider than you really are is that you very often succeed. Uncle Andrew did. He soon did hear nothing but roaring in Aslan's song. Soon he couldn't have heard anything else even if he had wanted to. And when at last the Lion spoke and said, "Narnia, awake," he didn't hear any words: he heard only a snarl. And when the Beasts spoke in answer, he heard only barkings, growlings, baying, and howlings.

The Morning

Aslan turned to them and said: "You do not yet look so happy as I mean you to be." Lucy said, "We're so afraid of being sent away, Aslan. And you have sent us back into our own world so often."

"No fear of that," said Aslan. "Have you not guessed?" Their hearts leaped, and a wild hope rose within them. "There was a real railway accident," said Aslan softly. "Your father and mother and all of you are—as you used to call it in the Shadowlands—dead. The term is over: the holidays have begun. The dream is ended: this is the morning."

And as He spoke He no longer looked to them like a lion; but the things that began to happen after that were so great and beautiful that I cannot write them. And for us this is the end of all the stories, and we can most truly say that they all lived happily ever after. But for them it was only the beginning of the real story. All their life in this world and all their adventures in Narnia had only been the cover and the title page: now at last they were beginning Chapter One of the Great Story which no one on earth has read: which goes on forever: in which every chapter is better than the one before.

Truth

It is of great importance to set a resolution, not to be shaken, never to tell an untruth. There is no vice so mean, so pitiful, so contemptible; and he who permits himself to tell a lie once, finds it much easier to do it a second and a third time, till at length it becomes habitual; he tells lies without attending to it, and truths without the world's believing him.

The New Man

And now we begin to see what it is that the New Testament is always talking about. It talks about Christians 'being born again'; it talks about them 'putting on Christ'; about Christ 'being formed in us'; about our coming to 'have the mind of Christ'.

Put right out of your head the idea that these are only fancy ways of saying that Christians are to read what Christ said and try to carry it out—as a man may read what Plato or Marx said and try to carry it out. They mean something much more than that. They mean that a real Person, Christ, here and now, in that very room where you are saying your prayers, is doing things to you. It is not a question of a good man who died two thousand years ago. It is a living Man, still as much a man as you, and still as much God as He was when He created the world, really coming and interfering with your very self; killing the old natural self in you and replacing it with the kind of self He has. At first, only for moments. Then for longer periods. Finally, if all goes well, turning you permanently into a different sort of thing; into a new little Christ, a being which, in its own small way, has the same kind of life as God; which shares in His power, joy, knowledge and eternity.

Propers

Each Sunday there are Propers: special prayers and readings from the Bible. There is a Collect for the Day; that is a single thought prayer, most written either before the re-founding of the Church of England in the 1540s or written by Bishop Thomas Cranmer, the first Archbishop of Canterbury after the re-founding.

The Collect for the Day is to be read on Sunday and during Morning and Evening Prayer until the next Sunday. The Epistle is normally a reading from one of the various Epistles, or letters, in the New Testament. The Gospel is a reading from one of the Holy Gospels, Matthew, Mark, Luke and John. The Collect is said by the minister as a prayer, the Epistle can be read by either a designated reader (as we do in our church) or by one of the ministers and the Holy Gospel, which during the service in our church is read by an ordained minister.

The propers are the same each year, except if a Red Letter Feast, that is one with propers in the prayerbook, falls on a Sunday, then those propers are to be read instead, except in a White Season, where it is put off. Red Letter Feasts, so called because in the Altar Prayerbooks the titles are in red, are special days. Most of the Red Letter Feasts are dedicated to early saints instrumental in the development of the church, others to special events. Some days are particularly special and the Collect for that day is to be used for an octave (eight days) or an entire season, like Advent or Lent.

The Collect.

BLESSED Lord, who hast caused all holy Scriptures to be written for our learning; Grant that we may in such wise hear them, read, mark, learn, and inwardly digest them, that by patience and comfort of thy holy Word, we may embrace, and ever hold fast, the blessed hope of everlasting life, which thou hast given us in our Saviour Jesus Christ. Amen.

The First Sunday in Advent

The Collect.

ALmighty God, give us grace that we may cast away the works of darkness, and put upon us the armour of light, now in the time of this mortal life, in which thy Son Jesus Christ came to visit us in great humility; that in the last day, when he shall come again in his glorious majesty to judge both the quick and the dead, we may rise to the life immortal, through him who liveth and reigneth with thee and the Holy Ghost, now and ever. Amen.

¶ This Collect is to be repeated every day, after the other Collects in Advent, until Christmas Day.

The Epistle for today came from Paul's letter to the Romans, the Fifteenth Chapter, beginning at the Fourth Verse.

Paul tells us the scriptures up to that time were written that we might have hope. He now reminds us to treat each other the way Jesus treated those about him, to open our hearts to each other as Jesus opened His. The promise of Jesus was not to Jews only, but to all people (Gentiles). Paul tells us Jesus Christ was a minister of ... the truth of God, to confirm the promises made unto the fathers: and that the Gentiles might glorify God for his mercy; as it is written, For this cause I will confess to thee among the Gentiles, and sing unto thy name. And again he saith, Rejoice, ye Gentiles, with his people. And again, Praise the Lord, all ye Gentiles; and laud him, all ye people."

He reminds us of the writing of Esaias, "There shall be a root of Jesse, and he that shall rise to reign over the Gentiles; in him shall the Gentiles trust." Paul leaves with the blessing, "Now the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, that ye may abound in hope, through the power of the Holy Ghost."

Whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope. Now the God of patience and consolation grant you to be likeminded one toward another according to Christ Jesus: that ye may with one mind and one mouth glorify God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ. Wherefore receive ye one another, as Christ also received us to the glory of God. Now I say that Jesus Christ was a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, to confirm the promises made unto the fathers: and that the Gentiles might glorify God for his mercy; as it is written, For this cause I will confess to thee among the Gentiles, and sing unto thy name. And again he saith, Rejoice, ye Gentiles, with his people. And again, Praise the Lord, all ye Gentiles; and laud him, all ye people. And again, Esaias saith, There shall be a root of Jesse, and he that shall rise to reign over the Gentiles; in him shall the Gentiles trust. Now the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, that ye may abound in hope, through the power of the Holy Ghost.

The Gospel for today came from the Gospel according to Saint Luke, the Twenty-First Chapter, beginning at the Twenty-Fifth Verse. In preparation for our recollection of the First Coming, the Nativity, we read St. Luke's description of the Second Coming, "and there shall be signs in the sun, and in the moon, and in the stars; and upon the earth distress of nations, with perplexity; the sea and the waves roaring; men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth: for the powers of heaven shall be shaken. And then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory. And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads; for your redemption draweth nigh. And he spake to them a parable; Behold the fig tree, and all the trees; when they now shoot forth, ye see and know of your own selves that summer is now nigh at hand. So likewise ye, when ye see these things come to pass, know ye that the kingdom of God is nigh at hand."

As clear as the Second Coming will be, so was the First Coming to those who would see and hear it. Once again, we are reminded that there are none so blind as those who will not see and none so deaf as those who will not hear.

Can you see Him? Will you hear Him?

And there shall be signs in the sun, and in the moon, and in the stars; and upon the earth distress of nations, with perplexity; the sea and the waves roaring; men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth: for the powers of heaven shall be shaken. And then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory. And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads; for your redemption draweth nigh. And he spake to them a parable; Behold the fig tree, and all the trees; when they now shoot forth, ye see and know of your own selves that summer is now nigh at hand. So likewise ye, when ye see these things come to pass, know ye that the kingdom of God is nigh at hand. Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away, till all be fulfilled. Heaven and earth shall pass away: but my words shall not pass away.

¶ This Collect is to be repeated every day, after the other Collects in Advent, until Christmas Day.

The Collect and the Epistle and the Gospel all tell us we are to learn from Scripture and to place our hope and trust in God, not man. We are to use Scripture for our learning so we might become wiser through the Holy Spirit, whose guidance as we read and study Scripture will allow us to come to a full understanding of the meaning it should have in our daily lives. If we try to live our lives or write our sermons without that guidance, we will be for naught. We have to understand what we are preaching; to live what we are preaching, in order for our faith to have any meaning. If we do not have understanding nor do we act upon our preaching, how can we ask others to follow God, when we ourselves are not? We must strive to avoid hypocrisy, to live a genuine life following His commandments He has set for us and to be a beacon to guide others to Him. We are not an icon or image of Him, but merely pathfinders, and once we have found the path, we guide others to Him. We do not possess any special powers as ministers of the Lord, except as we have the Holy Ghost within us, directing us. He works not only in Ministers, but in each and every member of the church.

He gives each of us in His church special talents, so members of the church may use these talents in conjunction with one another to bring people to Christ. For the Church is a team, each and everyone in it, the clergy and the lay people all having the common goals of spreading the Gospel to those who are in need of it and tending to those who need help. This is all done with reading and applying the precepts of Scripture with the help of the Holy Ghost.

We must act upon the words of Scripture and the sermons we hear, so our faith will manifest itself to all of those who are watching us. We will make mistakes and sin, as we are imperfect beings; if we admit our wrongdoings to God, and come back to Him, all shall be forgiven and we shall have another fresh slate, on which to start anew.

In the Epistle, Paul tells us Scripture was written that we might have hope, even in times of darkness. Times like these with unbelievers in high places doing their best to defile and ridicule our faith can try our souls. We must treat others as Christ taught us, with respect and humility, no matter our personal feelings/opinion on them and how they conduct their lives. If we are nice to them, we may plant a seed in their lives for the better, causing perhaps a change for the better in them. We do not know what impact our actions may have in the future; we can only hope they may influence an individual for the better. That is also why we need to be extremely careful in how our actions influence others. We want to be a positive influence, rather than a negative one.

This is where applying the love thy neighbor as thyself concept plays a big part. For if we follow Christ's Summary of the Law, then our actions are more likely to cause a positive impact on others around us, rather than if we follow ourselves instead of the Holy Ghost, wherein we are more likely to cause a negative impact to others around us.

Turning to the Gospel, Saint Luke describes the signs of the Second Coming and how we are to prepare for it. We are not to be caught unaware of the signs; if we read the signs, then we shall be prepared to meet our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. This means we have to be active in our faith, and not brain and faith dead like so many around us today. We have to be spiritually aware of our spiritual surroundings, much as a good and safe driver/motorcyclist must be aware of the cars around him and possible hazards in the road at all times.

We have to use the tools given to us by God; Scripture, our faith and our friends in the faith to combat the evils of this world. We must do our best to make this world the best place we can. If we study, digest and use Scripture in faith, we will have hope in these times of darkness; we will go forth and spread Good News, which will give us satisfaction and hope for people, therefore renewing our spirit and vigor and the knowledge that in the end we will triumph, will fill our hungry spirits. It will renew our sense of purpose and redirect our focus outward instead of inward.

Our hungry spirits will be satisfied by God's Goodness and His Word and His Love, of which He has infinite capacity, so nobody is stealing anybody else's share, as God has more than plenty to go around for all of us! In fact, the more of God's Love you take, the more there is for others! So we must concentrate then on sharing the Gospel and God's love, so others might finally find true happiness, as we find ours, in serving the Lord for the rest of our days. We also have to concentrate on living a genuine Christian life and not a shallow Christian life, and showing the way to Christ, for others to see and follow.

The common theme through the Collect, Epistle and Gospel is that if we have hope and trust in God, we must dread naught, and carry on, empowered through them in our daily lives here on Earth until we are called to our heavenly home. These are actions we must take not mere thoughts or words, actual actions!

Heaven is at the end of an uphill trail. The easy downhill trail does not lead to the summit.

The time is now, not tomorrow. The time has come, indeed. How will you ACT?

It is by our actions we are known.

Second Sunday in Advent

A note from Bishop Roy – We had guests today and I used the propers in a basic Bible study form, nothing written down but the Word. Essentially spoke about the people who are constantly predicted the coming of the Lord, without reading what was written about his second coming.... Oh why bother? BECAUSE you might learn that the Lord is Almighty, that He is Sovereign, that it is He we should be worshipping, not we ourselves.

Rev Bryan Dabney of Saint John's Sunday Sermon

We are fortunate to have Bryan's Sunday Sermon. If you want people to come to The Truth, you have to speak the truth, expound the truth and live the truth. This is really a good piece and I commend it to your careful reading.

Second Sunday in Advent

The apostle Paul wrote to Timothy:

THIS know also, that in the last days perilous times shall come. For men shall be lovers of their own selves, covetous, boasters, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy,

3 Without natural affection, trucebreakers, false accusers, incontinent, fierce, despisers of those that are good,

4 Traitors, heady, highminded, lovers of pleasures more than lovers of God;

5 Having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof: from such turn away.

6 For of this sort are they which creep into houses, and lead captive silly women laden with sins, led away with divers lusts,

7 Ever learning, and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth.

8 Now as Jannes and Jambres withstood Moses, so do these also resist the truth: men of corrupt minds, reprobate concerning the faith.

9 But they shall proceed no further: for their folly shall be manifest unto all men, as their's also was.

10 But thou hast fully known my doctrine, manner of life, purpose, faith, longsuffering, charity, patience,

11 Persecutions, afflictions, which came unto me at Antioch, at Iconium, at Lystra; what persecutions I endured: but out of them all the Lord delivered me.

12 Yea, and all that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution.

13 But evil men and seducers shall wax worse and worse, deceiving, and being deceived.

14 But continue thou in the things which thou hast learned and hast been assured of, knowing of whom thou hast learned them;

15 And that from a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus.

16 All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness:

17 That the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works.

(2 Timothy 3:1-17)

Paul warned us of a coming time of apostasy when he wrote, This know also, that in the last days perilous times shall come (v.1). Dr. Henry Halley in his famous Bible Handbook noted with regard to this time of trouble that it would come about due to, "The determined effort of mankind to corrupt the Gospel and thwart the work of Christ..." He further warned that "the terrible picture" of humanity as found in verses 2-5 of our lesson today, "with the exception of temporary periods of reform, is a fairly correct picture of the Visible Church as a whole to this present time."

In his second epistle to the Thessalonians, St. Paul noted that, Now we beseech you, brethren, by the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and by our gathering together unto him, that ye be not soon shaken in mind, or be troubled, neither by spirit, nor by word, nor by letter as from us, as that the day of Christ is at hand. Let no man deceive you by any means: for that day shall not come, except there come a falling away first, and that man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition (2:1-3). The apostle was moved by the Holy Ghost to remind the Thessalonians that in the latter days before the coming of our Lord, there would be a falling away, or, in the Greek, apostasia. Rev Matt Slick of the Christian Apologetics & Research Ministry noted that, "Apostasy means to fall away from the truth. Therefore, an apostate is someone who has once believed and then rejected the truth of God."

On that account, it should come as no surprise to the true and faithful Christian the falling away which the apostle warned of in II Thessalonians 2 will result in perilous times for believers. Examine the particulars as set forth in our epistle lesson: for men shall be lovers of their own selves, covetous, boasters, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy, without natural affection, trucebreakers, false accusers, incontinent, fierce, despisers of those that are good, traitors, heady, highminded, lovers of pleasures more than lovers of God; having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof: from such turn away (II St. Timothy 3:2-5). The expression perilous times brings to mind words such as hazardous, dangerous, and evil as these are fit examples which describe the world that Christians would one day face, and in many cases are already witnessing.

Look at what it costs to be a Christian today. In the Middle East, it can mean your life when ISIS/ al Qaida/ etc. shows up in your town or village. In Europe, it can mean your church may be looted and destroyed by Muslim "refugees". Additionally, it could mean your daughter might be raped, beaten, and even killed by these "followers of the prophet". In the US, such can result in verbal assaults by the media as well as by groups sympathetic to Islam within those clueless and spineless denominations which superficially bear the name of Christ. There is also the possibility of physical violence depending on the particular sect of Islam that is nearby. Those in academia may have to face student protests whose demands may range from their being fired to some public act of fawning before the aggrieved parties in order to remain employed. One may even be jailed for standing up for the faith against the reprobates of this world that have managed to gain “protection” from our courts. One thing is for certain, being a faithful Christian can be a trying and costly experience. With that in mind, let us now examine the various behaviors that will characterize the perilous times described in our epistle lesson.

The apostle Paul observed men shall be lovers of their own selves, covetous, boasters, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy (v.2). When people are concerned only with themselves, there is a tendency to satisfy their desires with little or no regard for those around them. An attendant mindset is covetousness wherein a person will satisfy his desires in most any manner he chooses without regard for the will and wishes of God. Boastful people are lovers of themselves. They are braggarts and narcissists. They will regard only their actions and achievements as being the most worthy, and that the deeds of others are of no consequence, or are of little value in comparison to theirs.

Those who blaspheme God and persecute his people are also revealing their true spiritual states. To blaspheme the name of God especially when he has commanded otherwise is put oneself in his place. Such a description also fits with being disobedient to parents (another commandment), as well as to be unthankful for his gifts; and further, to live a life devoid of holiness toward God. Bishop Ryle defined holiness as, “the habit of being of one mind with God... to shun every known sin, and to keep every known commandment... to strive to be like our Lord Jesus Christ... [living a] life of faith in him... [drawing] from him all his daily peace and strength... [and laboring]... to be conformed to his image.” When men cease from being holy, they are telling God his word and commandments do not matter as much as their own licentious natures and errant lifestyles.

Being, without natural affection, trucebreakers, false accusers, incontinent, fierce, despisers of those that are good (v.3) are behaviors which reveal the untrustworthiness of evil men. If men have no love or respect for their fellows, they will have no qualms about harming them to get what they want. If they are trucebreakers, they will not seek peaceful relations with those around them. If they are false accusers, they will knowingly bring accusations against a fellow without just cause. If they are incontinent, they will have no self-control. They may justly be called a “loose cannon” as they are without restraints or inhibitions. If they are fierce, they are filled with excessive anger and rage. Such persons are difficult to deal with because they are prone to vent their feelings against anyone who might be a convenient target. If they are despisers of those that are good, they will hate all who are in Christ Jesus. Since they are outside of the camp of Christ, they are thus by default in the camp of the evil one. As Satan hates Christ and all who follow him, so it follows that anyone who is in the camp of the Devil— by default or by intention— will hate all who have been regenerated by the Holy Ghost and work against them at every turn in this life.

Those who are, traitors, heady, highminded, lovers of pleasures more than lovers of God (v.4) will betray our Lord and his people. A traitor works for the enemy all the while pretending to be a friend and comrade-in-arms. Those who are considered to be heady and highminded are so consumed with their own self-importance that they do not see the need to exercise due care in their duties to others and to God. Those who love the things of this life that please them more than they love God have no real faith and will only pretend to possess such as long as it sates their desires. But comes the time when they are no longer satisfied with what God supplies, then they will seek to slake their lusts elsewhere with those who have a better offer, and need I say that the Devil is ever ready to deceive them on that score.

If ever one needed a sign that we are living in perilous times, the last portion of II St. Timothy 3 hits the proverbial “nail on the head” with, having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof: from such turn away (v.5). Look about us at what Christianity has become. At every turn you will witness churches whose congregations are led by individuals who, if pressed, will deny the divinity of our Lord Jesus Christ should they believe that he existed at all. They will, however, preach a social gospel of man and his earthly needs which the Devil’s cult of Political Correctness demands be accepted and tolerated without criticism. And further, they will either consciously avoid any doctrine of the Christian faith which speaks against their errant beliefs, or they will re-interpret the scriptures to mean something that God did not intend. And should they be faced with congregants who have rejected their false teaching and preaching— who will neither bow before their new god-of-the-moment, nor give their approval to aberrant and degrading behavior as found in the Bible— they will label them as fundamentalists, or phobic personalities of one sort or the other, or just plain backward and narrow-minded. They are counting on the average, unsuspecting soul in the pew to accept their wayward teachings and practices because, “Reverend so-in-so has been to seminary, and knows best what to teach and preach on and the lay people don’t.”

So what then should the faithful do? The apostle’s command is clear: from such turn away. Regenerated people in Christ have been called to reject any and all forms of apostasy by turning away from them. We are not to follow any doctrine, tenet or teaching that denies the truth of God’s word written neither are we to be in agreement with any pastor, teacher or church leader who approves of such things (see II St. John 7-11). You cannot reason with apostates as they have tasted of Christ and have rejected him without becoming regenerated beings. To speak plainly, they were never, ever saved though they were once acquainted with the truth, but in the end, turned from it.

As St. Peter has written concerning apostates in his second epistle in Chapter 2, These are wells without water, clouds that are carried with a tempest; to whom the mist of darkness is reserved for ever (v.17). And, For if after they have escaped the pollutions of the world through the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again entangled therein, and overcome, the latter end is worse with them than the beginning. For it had been better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than, after they have known it, to turn from the holy commandment delivered unto them (vv.20-21).

St. Jude observed apostates were, turning the grace of our God into lasciviousness [shameful wantonness and excess], and denying the only Lord God, and our Lord Jesus Christ (v.4). He further noted that they are vain in their speaking (v.10), greedy (v.11), without fear of the Lord (v.12), walking after their own lusts, as well as seeking advantage from men via their flatteries (v.16), and mocking God’s messages in favor of their sensual natures (vv.18-19).

Apostates, as we have seen, pose a serious threat to all who are born again in Christ Jesus because they are within the church— much as tares are among the wheat— and this will make them problematic, particularly for those who are novices in the faith. Apostates will often mask their true natures as they attempt to spread their compromised and corrupted teachings about Christ amongst the unsuspecting. We ought to heed the warning which the apostle Paul gave in his second letter to the Corinthians when he described apostates as being, false apostles, deceitful workers, transforming themselves into apostles of Christ, and no marvel; for Satan himself is transformed into an angel of light. Therefore it is no great thing if his ministers also be transformed as the ministers of righteousness; whose end shall be according to their works (11:13-15).

St. Paul also noted in II St. Timothy 3, evil men and seducers shall wax worse and worse, deceiving and being deceived (v.13). All the more reason for us to avoid them so that we are not deceived as well. The apostle's prescription calls for us to study the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus (v.15). He also affirmed the truth of the Bible when he wrote, All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works (vv.16-17).

Perilous times will indeed come my friends, if they are not already here. We cannot turn them away. We are expected to do our best as we labor in our Lord's harvest till he calls us home. Our job then is to avoid any person, group or thing that will inhibit our efforts to serve God as he has commanded. We must keep to the strait gate and the narrow way. We must keep to our Lord via daily prayer and bible reading, and away from those alien voices which would ruin our witness and make us shipwrecked castaways.

Do not be deceived by those who have only an appearance of faith and not the true faith of our Lord and Saviour. St. John in his first epistle warned us to, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God: because many false prophets are gone out into the world (4:1). That is sound advice to all who are of the faith.

Satan's messengers can come in a variety of packages, from those who appear to be strong in the faith, to those who make no bones about their skepticism. For the former, their masks will drop sooner or later and you will see them for what they truly are, so try them. Be like the Bereans of old who searched the scriptures daily to verify what the apostle Paul had told them (Acts 17:10-11). For the latter, their skepticism will be obvious to any regenerate Christian if they are familiar with God's word written. If you are a member of a church or denomination with apostates in positions of leadership or authority, especially where they have the approval of the hierarchy, you would be wise to leave that fellowship (see II Corinthians 6:14-18). Such bodies are like the church of Laodicea as they believe everything is fine and they have need of nothing else (see Revelation 3:14-22). How do you convince a self-satisfied person that he is in need of any remediation? Unless they see the need, they will not change. It would be best to reason with them from without than to be taken down to Hell because you chose to remain in fellowship with them. Even Noah and Lot served as witnesses to the wicked in their localities, but God removed them that they might be spared his wrath (II St. Peter 2:1-9).

Our Lord expects us to daily live that victory which he won for us on Calvary's Cross. Do not shun his word and commandment. Avoid errant beliefs and behaviors. Seek to be filled daily with the Holy Ghost. Do not be slack in your prayer life. And finally, in these last days, remember that as things begin to unwind and fall apart, there is a place which God has prepared for all who love him that is beyond our comprehension in beauty, joy and peace. Perilous times means that our Lord's appearing is nearer than ever. Perhaps tomorrow we shall see the Lord, or perhaps today¹. Watch for him for we know not the day nor the hour of his coming.

¹ Regardless of the time of the general Second Coming, roughly 313,000 people will have an opportunity to meet Jesus today and face the Judgment.

Let us pray,

FATHER, strengthen us for the work we have before us in these last days; and keep us from being sore distressed as we witness the evils of these perilous times; for these things we ask in the name of him who will come again for us, even Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Have a blessed week, Bryan+

After Church Hospitality

We would like some pictures of your after service gatherings. Come on! Help out!

People in our Prayers - <http://faithfulcenturionprayerteam.blogspot.com/>

Why? Prayer is an extremely important activity.

It is not that God knows not our needs, for He surely does. Yet, Jesus commanded us to ask God for those same needs. In addition to the obvious of asking God for help, offering thanksgiving and the like, prayer helps us focus our thoughts on how we might do God's work.

The Prayer Team of the Anglican Orthodox Church was established to help our members and fellow Christians pray for those in need and to give thanks as well for the blessings we have been granted.

Who can be on the list? Do I have to be a member of the Anglican Orthodox Church to be prayed for?

No! The only qualification to be on the list is that you want our prayer team to pray for you. We are Christians and are happy to pray for you, no matter who you are. If you want help from God, you are our kind of people.

What is the commitment from the prayer team?

Each member of the team will pray for the desired outcome at last once per day.

How do I get myself or someone else on the prayer list?

You can email one of the prayer team leaders: Jack - jack@faithfulcenturion.org or Dru - dru@faithfulcenturion.org, or call the office at (619) 659-3608 or fill out a prayer card at your church.

What should I ask for?

Depends on what you want. Some people merely want God to be asked to heal their ills and be mentioned by their first name, others want a specific outcome and / or have more of their personal information known to the team. Ask for what you want. It is your desire and need for prayer the team is attempting to meet. For typical examples, see the list below.

Updating the Team

If you are on our prayer list, or if you have submitted a person that you have asked us to pray for, please update one of the team members or Hap in person, by telephone or email. It helps to be able to pray specifically for these individuals including their specific needs; plus if they get better, it is nice to give thanks!

Please note that on the yellow (maybe green or orange if you get an old one) cards at church, you can ask that those to be prayed for have their names disseminated to the prayer team. Those names will be said in church and appear here. Or, you can ask that their names and purpose be kept confidential, then only Hap will know to pray for them.

Prayer List Notice – If you have someone on the prayer list and their needs have changed, please let us know. We'd like to update our prayers to reflect the need and most important to give thanks!

For Our Country

Our country has lost its way. Over half the people that vote, voted for a government that promises them things it cannot deliver in return for their souls which it can, will and does take. Our foreign policy backs the rise of Islam, we turn our backs on those who would follow God and arm those who murder them. Pray God will raise up a leader from among the people who can turn the country's course 180° and attempt to come back to God. Pray the people will recognize that they are headed down a smooth wide road into the pit, a road that will get smoother and smoother, steeper and steeper until the only possible way is down. Down, into the depths of the pit. Pray people will recognize there is:

- One True and Triune God who is goodness in and of Himself
- All religions are not equal
- All ways of life are not equal;
- The Bible holds the Key to Life;
- All rights come from God, not the State;
- Good;
- Bad;
- Evil;
- Right;
- Wrong;
- Allah is the Devil;
- Abortion is no more than sacrifice of children to Baal.

Pray this recognition will not come too late. Pray we will, each of us, do our duty to God, Country and Family, putting His Honor above all.

Persecuted

The Islamist group (ISIS) took over Quaragosh, the biggest Christian city in Iraq; 164 men, women and children were beheaded. People ask where is God? The real question is where are the people to enforce God's will. Pray the people of the world will see Allah for who he is, the Devil. Pray for those who remain behind that they might find a way to safety.

Various Special Requests

This is a horrible time for the people of India, Christians in particular; they are having problems with Hunger, Bank Closings, Transportation and Schools not functioning. Pray for the Leaders and Members of our Church in Eluru Andhra Pradesh. Pray their basic needs will be met and God will be close to them in this time of need.

We ask that you pray, please ask God that the Holy Ghost might give you insight into how you might make the lives of your friends and family better. Remember helping others is not just those who you don't know!
