Third Sunday in Advent

Sunday Report

Today was the Third Sunday in Advent, the period including the four Sundays before Christmas; the first Sunday of which is always the nearest Sunday to the feast of St. Andrew (30 November). Advent is a season of preparation and penitence. We prepare ourselves to celebrate the coming of Jesus at Christmas, but we also look forward to his second coming. The liturgical color for this season is purple reminding us of the Kingship of Jesus and that Advent is also a season of penitential preparation. Rose-color may be used on the third Sunday of Advent, signifying for us a lightening up of the penitential nature of the season as we draw closer to Christmas.

On Point

Someone asked, where do the quotes come from? The answer is from the people who uttered them. But, how did you find them? Oh, that. Some from Bishop Jerry, many from Rev Bryan Dabney, a few from other places, some from Rev Geordie Menzies-Grierson, but overall mostly from Bryan. He always has some great ones to share. On to the On Point quotes –

Screwtape: On silence

[The demon Screwtape writes:] Music and silence—how I detest them both! How thankful we should be that ever since our Father entered Hell—though longer ago than humans, reckoning in light years, could express—no square inch of infernal space and no moment of infernal time has been surrendered to either of those abominable forces, but all has been occupied by Noise— Noise, the grand dynamism, the audible expression of all that is exultant, ruthless, and virile—Noise which alone defends us from silly qualms, despairing scruples, and impossible desires. We will make the whole universe a noise in the end. We have already made great strides in this direction as regards the Earth. The melodies and silences of Heaven will be shouted down in the end. But I admit we are not yet loud enough, or anything like it.

Wise Devil

It is said that a preacher once had a dream in which he was shown the abode of the lost. Here a company of demons were discussing the best means for destroying the souls of men. One said, "I will go to earth and tell them that the Bible is a fable, and not of God." "No, that wont do," said another, "I will go and tell them that there is no Saviour, no Heaven, no Hell." At these words a fiendish smile lit up their faces. "No, continued another, that will fail, you cannot make men believe that." At this the old Serpent arose himself, and remarked, "I will journey leisurely to the world of men. I will tell them that there is a God, a Saviour, a Heaven—yes, and a Hell, too, but I will tell them that there is no need of being in a hurry; take plenty time": and all agreed that he should go.

I want to tell

At the battle of Williamsburg, a soldier who had the artery of his arm severed by a fragment of a shell, and was fast bleeding to death, saw a surgeon going to the front for orders; and, lifting his bleeding member, cried, "Doctor, please!" The surgeon dismounted, bound up the vessel, and gave all possible relief. As he started on, the man said, "Doctor, what is your name?" The reply was, "No matter." "But, doctor," said the wounded man, "I want to tell my wife and children who saved me.

John the Baptist received a special call from God to begin preaching and baptizing. A message from heaven was sent to his heart and, under the impulse of that message, he undertook his marvellous work. This account throws great light on the office of all ministers of the gospel. It is an office which no man has the right to take up unless he has an inward call from God as well as an outward call from man. Visions and revelations, of course, we have no right to expect. Fanatical claims to special gifts of the Spirit must always be checked and discouraged. But an inward call a man must have before he puts his hand to the work of the ministry. Let it be a part of our daily prayers that our churches may have no ministers except those who are really called of God. An unconverted minister is an injury and burden to a church.

Many of the expedients being tried today in the churches to bring new life to the body are evidence of [the] failure to accept the truth of the Bible's teaching about man and the seriousness of sin. What is the good of calling in the doctor if the patient is dead? If we truly believe what the Bible tells us that man is dead spiritually, that only the power of God in the Gospel can save him, what are the churches doing with all these gimmicks? If men will not respond to the gospel they will respond to nothing.

In the midst of this appalling confusion of modern cults and the innumerable sects of Christianity, the Bible, God's living Word of Truth, is the Christian's only sure protection against doctrinal deception and demonic despoliation—the Bible, rightly understood, however, and implicitly obeyed. What do you believe about the Bible? It is a very simple question. Do you believe that the Bible is truth in every case? The apostle Paul reminded young Timothy that, All scripture is given by inspiration of God. God has proclaimed that the Bible is truth and that it is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness; that the man of God may be perfect, throughly furnished unto all good works (II St. Timothy 3:16). When man's learning and sensibilities conflict with the plain teaching of the Bible, the devout believer must reject the former in favor of the latter. Nevertheless, I have too often witnessed both individuals and groups who accepted the word of another mortal over the word of God because that person was, in their estimation, learned in a particular field of human endeavor and appeared to have credibility. What does that say about such people? They are in essence putting another created being in the place of God. It is one thing to claim ignorance of certain things found in Scripture; but it is altogether something else to know what the scriptures say and to take a position which is contrary to them. That is arrogance. That is blasphemy.

Some advocates of 'sensible' gun control argue that no one needs ... a semi- automatic pistol or rifle ... or a 'high capacity' magazine or a weapon over a certain caliber or which has a certain 'threatening' appearance ... In a free society, the [individual decides] for himself what his needs are ... In an unfree society ... [such is] defined by... those [in power] ... And if those with guns decide you don't need a gun — they will feel free to decide you don't need other things as well. Depend upon it. There is no peaceful Islam... Radicalization isn't transformational; it's incremental... Radicalization does not go from zero to sixty. It speeds up from sixty to seventy-five. It builds on elements that are already there in the mosque and the household. The term "extremism" implicitly admits that what we are talking about is not a complete transformation, but the logical extension of existing Islamic beliefs... The Muslim teenagers headed to join ISIS did not come out of a vacuum. They came from mosques and families that normalized some degree of Islamic Supremacism and viewed some Muslim terrorists as heroes and role models. It's time for Western governments to admit that the ISIS Jihadist is more the product of his parents and his teachers than of social media Jihadis on YouTube and Twitter. Radicalization doesn't begin with a sheikh on social media. It begins at home. It begins in the mosque. It just ends with ISIS.

Propers

Each Sunday there are Propers: special prayers and readings from the Bible. There is a Collect for the Day; that is a single thought prayer, most written either before the re-founding of the Church of England in the 1540s or written by Bishop Thomas Cranmer, the first Archbishop of Canterbury after the re-founding.

The Collect for the Day is to be read on Sunday and during Morning and Evening Prayer until the next Sunday. The Epistle is normally a reading from one of the various Epistles, or letters, in the New Testament. The Gospel is a reading from one of the Holy Gospels, Matthew, Mark, Luke and John. The Collect is said by the minister as a prayer, the Epistle can be read by either a designated reader (as we do in our church) or by one of the ministers and the Holy Gospel, which during the service in our church is read by an ordained minister.

The propers are the same each year, except if a Red Letter Feast, that is one with propers in the prayerbook, falls on a Sunday, then those propers are to be read instead, except in a White Season, where it is put off. Red Letter Feasts, so called because in the Altar Prayerbooks the titles are in red, are special days. Most of the Red Letter Feasts are dedicated to early saints instrumental in the development of the church, others to special events. Some days are particularly special and the Collect for that day is to be used for an octave (eight days) or an entire season, like Advent or Lent.

The Collect.

O LORD Jesus Christ, who at thy first coming didst send thy messenger to prepare thy way before thee; Grant that the ministers and stewards of thy mysteries may likewise so prepare and make ready thy way, by turning the hearts of the disobedient to the wisdom of the just, that at thy second coming to judge the world we may be found an acceptable people in thy sight, who livest and reignest with the Father and the Holy Spirit ever, one God, world without end. Amen.

The propers for the First Sunday in Advent can be found on Page 90-92:

The First Sunday in Advent

The Collect.

ALMIGHTY God, give us grace that we may cast away the works of darkness, and put upon us the armour of light, now in the time of this mortal life, in which thy Son Jesus Christ came to visit us in great humility; that in the last day, when he shall come again in his glorious majesty to judge both the quick and the dead, we may rise to the life immortal, through him who liveth and reigneth with thee and the Holy Ghost, now and ever. Amen.

¶ This Collect is to be repeated every day, after the other Collects in Advent, until Christmas Day.

The Epistle for today came from Paul's first letter to the Corinthians, the Fourth Chapter beginning at the First Verse.

Paul calls on those who would be the ministers of Christ and stewards of the mysteries of God to be good and faithful stewards leading their flock rather than commanding from the rear. He tells them not to be fearful of the judgment of man. In fact, he tells he is not concerned of the judgment of men, or even that of himself, but rather that of God. God knows our hearts and when He judges, He "will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the hearts: and then shall every man have praise of God."

Let it be fully understood that when Paul writes of ministers and stewards, he is talking of each of us, not just those who are "ordained ministers." We each must be good and faithful stewards of the gifts God has entrusted to each of us. We each must help those around us benefit from the gifts which are freely given.

LET a man so account of us, as of the ministers of Christ, and stewards of the mysteries of God. Moreover it is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful. But with me it is a very small thing that I should be judged of you, or of man's judgment: yea, I judge not mine own self. For I know nothing against myself; yet am I not hereby justified: but he that judgeth me is the Lord. Therefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come, who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the hearts: and then shall every man have praise of God.

The Gospel for today came from the Gospel according to Saint Matthew, the Eleventh Chapter, beginning at the Second Verse. Now when John the Baptist "had heard in the prison the works of Christ, he sent two of his disciples, and said unto him, Art thou he that should come, or do we look for another?" John was Jesus' cousin and the one who baptized Him and heard God say, THIS IS MY SON IN WHOM I AM WELL PLEASED." Yet, he and the rest of the Jews of the time expected the Messiah to come into Jerusalem in triumph, sit in the temple and rule, commanding, nay compelling the Romans to leave. No doubt marveling at the question, for it was asked of Him who had performed countless genuine miracles, healing the blind, the deaf the lame, "Jesus answered and said unto them, Go and shew John again those things which ye do hear and see: the blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and the poor have the gospel preached to them. And blessed is he, whosoever shall not be offended in me." As John's disciples parted, Jesus talked to those about him. He asked them concerning John, "What went ye out into the wilderness to see? A reed shaken with the wind? But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? behold, they that wear soft clothing are in kings' houses. But what went ye out for to see? A prophet?" He was counseling them, trying to help them fully understand the implications of what was around them. He was there! So, he explained that John was not "just" a prophet, but the messenger of God, the man with the flag running before the locomotive. He went on, "For this is he, of whom it is written, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee." Because Jesus came into this world, not to be the King of the Present, but rather the King of that to Come.

NOW when John had heard in the prison the works of Christ, he sent two of his disciples, and said unto him, Art thou he that should come, or do we look for another? Jesus answered and said unto them, Go and shew John again those things which ye do hear and see: the blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and the poor have the gospel preached to them. And blessed is he, whosoever shall not be offended in me. And as they departed, Jesus began to say unto the multitudes concerning John, What went ye out into the wilderness to see? A reed shaken with the wind? But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? behold, they that wear soft clothing are in kings' houses. But what went ye out for to see? A prophet? yea, I say unto you, and more than a prophet. For this is he, of whom it is written, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

¶ This Collect is to be repeated every day, after the other Collects in Advent, until Christmas Day.

In the Collect for the Third Sunday in Advent, we are referred to as the ministers and stewards (caretakers) of the mysteries of God: the Scriptures and His Word. We ask for help in getting the hearts of the disobedient, by the wisdom of the just, to turn and look to the Kingdom of God for answers and not this world. In view of the recent events, how timely can this prayer be? When we look to the world for solutions, we find the solutions of this world. This world, ruled by the Prince of this world, the Prince of Air, the devil himself! But, what will people think when we reject worldly solutions to worldly problems. There is an answer for that, conveniently following the Collect.

In the Epistle, Paul says that we must not fear of what others would think of us, but rather be concerned about what God would think of what we are doing and what direction He wants us to go in. Rather than fear man, we must switch to fearing God, and doing what He wants. Then perhaps maybe, some in this world will see what we are doing for Him and come to know Him and join Him. We will never get anywhere if we follow the ways of this world. As in John 1:11-13 "He came unto His own and His Own received him not. But as many as received Him, to them he gave the power to become the Sons of God, even to them that believe on His name. Which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor the will of man, but of God."

If we are born of God, then it is He to whom we must return and not man. As the verse from John points out, even Jesus came to us and we refused him, so how can we expect any better treatment from man, than of God Himself, who came down for us? But the next part of the verse, tells us what we will get if we join with him. He gave us the power to become the Sons of God, as we are His adopted children. He is giving us our eternal inheritance, if we will but follow Him. We are going to get an absolutely wonderful reward, if we do our very best to follow Him. The treatment we receive in this world will pale in comparison to the treatment God will give us in the next world if we but do our very best to follow Him. He has given us the power to become the Sons of God, we are God's adopted children. This is a power greater than any in this world not of God's Hands. This is a power which cannot be taken away from us, as we are tightly in God's Hand. The enemy cannot pluck us out of God's grasp, once we have willingly joined ourselves to God through the help of the Holy Ghost. We need the unifying spirit of the Holy Ghost to help us understand the concepts of Scripture and not only to understand them, but to follow them. With the help of the Holy Ghost, we can understand what we are to do and more than that, we will be able to apply the concepts we learn from Scripture in our every day lives.

In the Gospel, Christ asks the crowd of what they expected to see? Some great big flashy sign He was going to overthrow the Romans and unite the Jews to conquer the world? No, He did not come to do this, for that would be only a temporary and in fact temporal thing to rule the world. He came for far more than that; to prepare our hearts for eternity and change us from unjust to just creatures, worthy of God's creation and His Hands. He came to mould and to shape us from being roughly made to something very valuable. He came to transform us from death to being truly alive in all of the senses of the word.

To be worthy of the charge and care of His mysteries, we must willing to listen to Him and do whatever we need to do to line ourselves up with what He wants for us, not what we want for ourselves. We must think of others, instead of thinking of ourselves all the time. I must confess that I am guilty of this, but I am always working on trying to reverse this, as we must, in order to walk with Him. We must be willing to never give up and persevere; if we follow this, we will keep getting better and better all the time.

Life is a continual process of learning in every aspect of our lives, not least of these aspects is our spiritual growth and development. The Japanese have a word for this, introduced into their industry by the American engineer W. Edwards Deming, Kaizen (改善) that is to say continuous improvement. Never perfect, but always endeavoring to improve. Day by day. Our goal is to make the next day better than the last. This is how we must continually develop as Christians.

To care for the mysteries of God properly, we must keep learning in our spiritual lives and if we do this, we will keep growing more and more every day. Reading the Scriptures is one way to further our spiritual development, as well as helping others without thought for ourselves. We must keep doing a combination of these and similar things, if we expect to be able to facilitate our spiritual growth and change the minds of the disobedient and the unjust. We have to undergo our spiritual rebirth before we can help to transform others and to serve others. We need to have the mental state that only the Holy Ghost can give us, to do this. We must keep trying our best to improve and learn from the Scriptures and the Holy Spirit and to trust in God and dread naught.

As He came to change us for the better, Paul and the Collect remind us to do the same for the others. We have to keep trying to help our friends and family and to do our best to do so, while shining the light of Christ as His ambassadors. We know not what seeds we plant when we perform such actions and in a future time they may bear fruit. We must not try and rush the work of the Holy Spirit, who works on God's time and not that of our own time. All good things will happen in due course. If we do our part by planting the seed, the Holy Ghost will nurture and develop this seed to bear fruit. We must put our hearts and minds together and think about what God wants us to do in the end rather than what we want to do. Put God first and all will be well, is what can be taken from today's collects and lessons, ultimately. We must be willing do to this, then we can be properly caring for the mysteries of God.

Heaven is at the end of an uphill trail. The easy downhill trail does not lead to the summit.

The time is now, not tomorrow. The time has come, indeed. How will you ACT?

It is by our actions we are known.

As we reflect on these passages of the Word of God selected for this the Third Sunday in Advent...think fulfillment. The Word was fulfilled in the birth of Jesus those long years ago, time and again we have been pointed to this event in history, now it is done. One of the interesting things that happened during this first coming, the birth of Christ; it happened, some people were aware of the event, others went about their day to day lives without any clue to the happenings.

Look at the last couple of verses of Psalm 85, vs 8 - 13

8 I will hear what God the Lord will speak: for he will speak peace unto his people, and to his saints: but let them not turn again to folly.

9 Surely his salvation is nigh them that fear him; that glory may dwell in our land.

10 Mercy and truth are met together; righteousness and peace have kissed each other.

11 Truth shall spring out of the earth; and righteousness shall look down from heaven. 12 Yea, the Lord shall give that which is good; and our land shall yield her increase.

13 Righteousness shall go before him; and shall set us in the way of his steps.

Notice the key phrases: Peace and salvation; Love and faithfulness; Righteousness and peace; Faithfulness and righteousness

And then an interesting promise; Yea, the Lord shall give that which is good; and our land shall yield her increase. Righteousness shall go before him and shall set us in the way of his steps.

In this verse as well as in Malachi both refer to John the baptizer, the cousin of Jesus; elsewhere we can read passages that speak of preparing the way of the Lord.

Ironically, a group of pagans well East of Bethlehem will pour over all types of sacred script to see what might be revealed in an astronomical happening. I speak of the Magi. They had been watching the heavens as they generally did when they noticed a new light, a new star, so they try to figure out what it means and are able to surmise that it was announcing the birth of a king. Interestingly enough, God didn't always use His word, there were signs and wonders, "...the Heavens declared the Glory of God..." as the 19th psalm begins.

As People of the Book, the Hebrews should not have been ignorant, unless someone wasn't teaching them. Zechariah, John the baptizer's father, knew the birth of his son was special, he will sing his song of praise. Simeon, an extremely elderly and righteous man, will approach the earthly parents of Jesus at the temple grounds, when they came to present Jesus at the temple, and will praise God for allowing him to see the Salvation of Israel in the person of this baby Jesus.

We can see that there were people in Jesus early life who did understand who he was, they did understand why he was here. But you also notice that the Spirit of God was upon them, they didn't do this on their own. They did need the illumination of the Holy Spirit to allow them to see what was before them.

So how do we reveal Christ to others ? In today's world there are many silent and non-invasive ways to let others know that Jesus Christ is in control of your life. You can live a life to the best of your ability or you can ask God to use you to the best of the talents that He gave you; the latter would be by far the better way. This being that Christ living through us is far more powerful than anything we can do, in thought, word, or deed. We can share God's love with others without having to beat anyone over the head with a Bible. We can show others that God is in us by example, by trying to be the person that God would have us to be, and most especially asking God to forgive us and renew us DAILY in the likeness of His Son, Jesus Christ.

It isn't easy. There are plenty of things, events, people, and others issues that can make us angry, discouraged, depressed, or just down right unchristlike. It is so much easier to give in to our self and not try to behave or be Christ like. We must pray daily for a renewed spirit of faithfulness and a renewed sense of our total inability to do it ourselves, we need His help to do the job.

Let us pray:

ALMGHTY God please help us to relate and understand your Word and to translate it in this season of hyper busyness, let us try to pause and reflect on the great Gift that You sent us, the perfect, once and for all sacrifice for our sins, the only begotten Son of God, Jesus Christ our Lord and Redeemer. We ask that you be with all those who are lonely, afraid, cold, hungry, and without salvation, bringing them the Light of the World, most especially at this time of the year.

Help us to be the bearers of Good News, to be a small light in the great darkness that surrounds us, to make us salt and light to the world. These things we ask in the Name of the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. Amen

Rev Bryan Dabney of Saint John's Sunday Sermon

We are fortunate to have Bryan's Sunday Sermon. If you want people to come to The Truth, you have to speak the truth, expose the truth and live the truth. This is really a good piece and I commend it to your careful reading.

Third Sunday in Advent

Our sermon today comes from the Old Testament book of Nahum. It is a follow-on to Jonah's by some 150 years as both men were given to preach about Nineveh: a notorious middle eastern city that was located on the banks of the Tigris River in what is now northern Iraq. But where Jonah's message concerned God's mercy and acceptance of a penitent sinner; Nahum message was about God's judgment on Nineveh as it had returned to its former ways of sin and wickedness.

Now, you won't hear any voices rising in support of the Assyrians. By all accounts, they were generally loathed by their neighbors and Nahum's message of their coming destruction would have been welcomed by all of the peoples of that region, so just a bit of background might be useful at the juncture.

The Assyrians were a Semitic people who began their conquest of Mesopotamia during the 9th century BC. They were believed to have been the first people to organize their armies into units much like our modern division which contained specialized field units such as infantry, cavalry, engineers, and quartermaster. They were also believed to have been the first people to have practiced the art of psychological warfare via their use of terror and mayhem to induce their foes to surrender without a fight. The Assyrian king, Ashurnasirpal had the following account recorded which described his gruesome tactics: "I flayed all the chief men... I covered the pillar with their skins... some I impaled... on stakes... I burned [them] with fire... I took living captives... I [mutilated them]... the city I destroyed, I devastated." As Professor Thomas Africa noted in his work, The Ancient World, p. 44, "Such spectacles produced an immediate effect: but Ashurnasirpal had established a precedent in ferocity that obliged his successors to continue atrocities which only made their victims lust for revenge. The frightful Assyrians continually faced rebellions.”

So, yes, there was a popular sentiment in the Fertile Crescent from the 9th century until the end of the 7th century BC that the Assyrian Empire ought to “dry up and blow away.”

When Jonah preached at Nineveh, the Assyrian Empire had come on the world stage as a force to be reckoned with. But the fact that from the king right down to the lowest subject in that great city repented at his preaching is a testimony to the power of God’s word presented by his appointed — but less than willing— witness. Jonah was angry that God’s word had such an effect on that city. Still, God’s mercy was extended to a Gentile people upon their heart-felt recognition of their sins and their sorrow over them before God.

But for Nahum, the message was not a calling to repentance but one of destruction. Notice the opening words of Nahum (1:1), The burden of Nineveh... for anytime God uses this phraseology, it refers to an approaching terrible and unavoidable judgment. Nineveh’s burden was its heavy load of sins for which God would hold them accountable. As God had been gracious to spare them on account of their repentance in Jonah’s time; nevertheless by the time of Nahum, they had forged an even greater chain of wickedness (to use a Charles Dickens’ expression from his Christmas Carol).

Consider also verse 2, God is jealous, and the LORD revengeth; the LORD revengeth, and is furious; the LORD will take vengeance on his adversaries, and he reserveth wrath for his enemies. Notice the repetition in this verse. Normally stating such only once in a chapter or book is sufficient, but when the message is immediately repeated, it compounds the notion above the norm. He is God and there is no other. He hears and sees everything. Every evil, every idle word, every wicked thought, every wicked glance of the eye. Every lying word and false teaching, God has seen and heard it all. And so every tear, every unkindness, every broken heart, and every physical violation will be on record with him. Therefore, true vengeance belongs to him. He will punish evildoers and avenge those of his own who have been victimized by the wicked.

In verse 3, we learn that God is slow to anger, and that he will not at all acquit the wicked. The Assyrians had butchered and plundered their way across Mesopotamia even as far as Egypt to the west. They had carted away most of the inhabitants of the northern kingdom of Israel, and had attempted to conquer the kingdom of Judah. God preserved the southern kingdom because they at least had a few righteous kings where the northern kingdom had none. Still, God knows how to reserve the wicked for the day of judgment and to deliver his own out of their snare if it be agreeable to his will and purpose. His reservation of the wicked for judgment speaks of God’s righteous nature. His judgment will come upon all who have sinned without due consideration for its consequences, and who have not attained the means of salvation. For such there will be neither pity nor lessening of his verdict (II St. Peter 2:9). And so Nineveh fell to a coalition of Medes, Persians and Chaldeans in 612 BC which the prophet Nahum (3:18-19) prophesied ahead of time saying, Thy shepherds slumber, O king of Assyria: thy nobles shall dwell in the dust: thy people is scattered upon the mountains, and no man gathereth them. There is no healing of thy bruise; thy wound is grievous: all that hear the bruit [rumour] of thee shall clap the hands over thee: for upon whom hath not thy wickedness passed continually?

Returning to Nahum chapter 1, we find in verse 7 that The LORD is good, a strong hold in the day of trouble; and he knoweth them that trust in him. This is a common theme in both testaments of the Bible. God is indeed good and will be a place of refuge for those who trust in him (see Psalm 46:1-11). Our Lord has gone before us into heaven to prepare a place for us (St. John 14:2-3), and until he comes again, we are expected to abide in his word. We are to trust him who is our strength, shield and sure defense as we pass through the troublesome times of this mortal life. As one friend of mine has said, "We are either entering a storm, in the midst of it, or passing out of it and headed toward another one." We have not been promised a smooth journey only that with God's guiding Spirit, we will have the comfort of his presence in this life, and the assurance that we will make that safe harbor of his kingdom.

And so the lesson for us is this: God will remember the evil of the wicked, and will eventually bring his judgment upon them. But for his servants, he will be our strong hold—a mighty fortress—preserving us as he has promised in his word. May God lead you and preserve your whole spirit, soul and body unto the day of Christ's glorious appearing.

Let us pray,

FATHER, make of us vessels fit for thy use via the power of the Holy Ghost; that we being so conformed to thy will would carry to others the truth of thy word written; and these things we ask in the name of thy Son, our Saviour, Jesus Christ. Amen.

Have a blessed week, Bryan+

After Church Hospitality

We would like some pictures of your after service gatherings. Come on! Help out!

People in our Prayers - <http://faithfulcenturionprayerteam.blogspot.com/>

Why? Prayer is an extremely important activity.

It is not that God knows not our needs, for He surely does. Yet, Jesus commanded us to ask God for those same needs. In addition to the obvious of asking God for help, offering thanksgiving and the like, prayer helps us focus our thoughts on how we might do God's work.

The Prayer Team of the Anglican Orthodox Church was established to help our members and fellow Christians pray for those in need and to give thanks as well for the blessings we have been granted.

Who can be on the list? Do I have to be a member of the Anglican Orthodox Church to be prayed for?

No! The only qualification to be on the list is that you want our prayer team to pray for you. We are Christians and are happy to pray for you, no matter who you are. If you want help from God, you are our kind of people.

What is the commitment from the prayer team?

Each member of the team will pray for the desired outcome at least once per day.

How do I get myself or someone else on the prayer list?

You can email one of the prayer team leaders: Jack - jack@faithfulcenturion.org or Dru - dru@faithfulcenturion.org, or call the office at (619) 659-3608 or fill out a prayer card at your church.

What should I ask for?

Depends on what you want. Some people merely want God to be asked to heal their ills and be mentioned by their first name, others want a specific outcome and / or have more of their personal information known to the team. Ask for what you want. It is your desire and need for prayer the team is attempting to meet. For typical examples, see the list below.

Updating the Team

If you are on our prayer list, or if you have submitted a person that you have asked us to pray for, please update one of the team members or Hap in person, by telephone or email. It helps to be able to pray specifically for these individuals including their specific needs; plus if they get better, it is nice to give thanks!

Please note that on the yellow (maybe green or orange if you get an old one) cards at church, you can ask that those to be prayed for have their names disseminated to the prayer team. Those names will be said in church and appear here. Or, you can ask that their names and purpose be kept confidential, then only Hap will know to pray for them.

Prayer List Notice – If you have someone on the prayer list and their needs have changed, please let us know. We'd like to update our prayers to reflect the need and most important to give thanks!

Dustin - USAF and has been in Kuwait for the last six months and during this time he was promoted to SSgt. Dustin is now on his way home to the USA for a visit and he and his family thank you for your prayer and ask you to continue as he serves his country and Lord.

For Our Country

Our country has lost its way. Over half the people that vote, voted for a government that promises them things it cannot deliver in return for their souls which it can, will and does take. Our foreign policy backs the rise of Islam, we turn our backs on those who would follow God and arm those who murder them. Pray God will raise up a leader from among the people who can turn the country's course 180° and attempt to come back to God. Pray the people will recognize that they are headed down a smooth wide road into the pit, a road that will get smoother and smoother, steeper and steeper until the only possible way is down. Down, into the depths of the pit. Pray people will recognize there is:

- One True and Triune God who is goodness in and of Himself
- All religions are not equal
- All ways of life are not equal;
- The Bible holds the Key to Life;
- All rights come from God, not the State;
- Good;
- Bad;
- Evil;
- Right;

- Wrong;
- Allah is the Devil;
- Abortion is no more than sacrifice of children to Baal.

Pray this recognition will not come too late. Pray we will, each of us, do our duty to God, Country and Family, putting His Honor above all.

Persecuted

The Islamist group (ISIS) took over Quaragosh, the biggest Christian city in Iraq; 164 men, women and children were beheaded. People ask where is God? The real question is where are the people to enforce God's will. Pray the people of the world will see Allah for who he is, the Devil. Pray for those who remain behind that they might find a way to safety.

Around the world, Christians are under attack, not only in the Muslim world, but from Hindus and others in India. Also, they are under continual attack in the name of "Separation of Church and State" in the western world, as it becomes actively atheist or pro-devil buddy. Please pray for God's guidance and protection for all persecuted Christians and those around them.

Education

Thomas Dabney is attending Delta State University in Cleveland, Mississippi, to finish his Bachelor's Degree. Please pray for Thomas to focus on education and do his very best at school.

Thanksgiving

Hope DeLong, JB Alexander, Eric Popper and others give thanks for safe travel this past week to the San Diego.

Various Special Requests

This is a horrible time for the people of India, Christians in particular; they are having problems with Hunger, Bank Closings, Transportation and Schools not functioning. Pray for the Leaders and Members of our Church in Eluru Andhra Pradesh. Pray their basic needs will be met and God will be close to them in this time of need.

We ask that you pray, please ask God that the Holy Ghost might give you insight into how you might make the lives of your friends and family better. Remember helping others is not just those who you don't know!
