Sunday Report

Today was the Fifth Sunday after the Epiphany.

On Point

Someone asked, where do the quotes come from? The answer is from the people who uttered them. But, how did you find them? Oh, that. Some from Bishop Jerry, many from Rev Bryan Dabney, a few from other places, some from Rev Geordie Menzies-Grierson, but overall mostly from Bryan. He always has a few great ones to share. On to the On Point quotes –

Space Time Continuum

Everyone who believes in God at all believes that He knows what you and I are going to do tomorrow. But if He knows I am going to do so-and-so, how can I be free to do otherwise? Well, here once again, the difficulty comes from thinking that God is progressing along the Timeline like us: the only difference being that He can see ahead and we cannot. Well, if that were true, if God foresaw our acts, it would be very hard to understand how we could be free not to do them. But suppose God is outside and above the Time-line. In that case, what we call 'tomorrow' is visible to Him in just the same way as what we call 'today'. All the days are 'Now' for Him. He does not remember you doing things yesterday; He simply sees you doing them, because, though you have lost yesterday, He has not. He does not 'foresee' you doing things tomorrow; He simply sees you doing them: because, though tomorrow is not yet there for you, it is for Him. You never supposed that your actions at this moment were any less free because God knows what you are doing. Well, He knows your tomorrow's actions in just the same way—because He is already in tomorrow and can simply watch you. In a sense, He does not know your action till you have done it: but then the moment at which you have done it is already 'Now' for Him.

Propers

Each Sunday there are Propers: special prayers and readings from the Bible. There is a Collect for the Day; that is a single thought prayer, most written either before the re-founding of the Church of England in the 1540s or written by Bishop Thomas Cranmer, the first Archbishop of Canterbury after the re-founding.

The Collect for the Day is to be read on Sunday and during Morning and Evening Prayer until the next Sunday. The Epistle is normally a reading from one of the various Epistles, or letters, in the New Testament. The Gospel is a reading from one of the Holy Gospels, Matthew, Mark, Luke and John. The Collect is said by the minister as a prayer, the Epistle can be read by either a designated reader (as we do in our church) or by one of the ministers and the Holy Gospel, which during the service in our church is read by an ordained minister or our Deacon Striker.

The propers are the same each year, except if a Red Letter Feast, that is one with propers in the prayerbook, falls on a Sunday, then those propers are to be read instead, except in a White Season, where it is put off. Red Letter Feasts, so called because in the Altar Prayerbooks the titles are in red, are special days. Most of the Red Letter Feasts are dedicated to early saints instrumental in the development of the church, others to special events. Some days are particularly special and the Collect for that day is to be used for an octave (eight days) or an entire season, like Advent or Lent.

The Propers for today are found on Page 115-118, with the Collect first:

The Fifth Sunday after the Epiphany.

The Collect.

O LORD, we beseech thee to keep thy Church and household continually in thy true religion; that they who do lean only upon the hope of thy heavenly grace may evermore be defended by thy mighty power; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Epistle for today comes from the Third Chapter of Paul's letter to the Colossians beginning at the Twelfth Verse:

PUT on therefore, as the elect of God, holy and beloved, a heart of compassion, kindness, humbleness of mind, meekness, long-suffering; forbearing one another, and forgiving one another, if any man have a quarrel against any: even as Christ forgave you, so also do ye. And above all these things put on charity, which is the bond of perfectness. And let the peace of God rule in your hearts, to the which also ye are called in one body; and be ye thankful. Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; teaching and admonishing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord. And whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by him.

The Holy Gospel came from the Thirteenth Chapter of the Gospel of St. Matthew beginning at the Twenty-Fourth Verse.

THE kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man which sowed good seed in his field: but while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way. But when the blade was sprung up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also. So the servants of the householder came and said unto him, Sir, didst not thou sow good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares? He said unto them, An enemy hath done this. The servants said unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up? But he said, Nay; lest while ye gather up the tares, ye root up also the wheat with them. Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but gather the wheat into my barn.

Bishop Ogles' Sermon

We are off fortunate to get copies of Bishop Jerry's sermon notes. Today is one of those Sundays. Today's sermon starts off with the collect, and like always, it will give you a lot to consider in your heart.

Sermon Notes

Fifth Sunday after The Epiphany

5 February 2017, Anno Domini (in the Year of Our Lord)

The Fifth Sunday after the Epiphany.

The Collect.

OLORD, we beseech thee to keep thy Church and household continually in thy true religion; that they who do lean only upon the hope of thy heavenly grace may evermore be defended by thy mighty power; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

THE kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man which sowed good seed in his field: but while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way. But when the blade was sprung up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also. So the servants of the householder came and said unto him, Sir, didst not thou sow good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares? He said unto them, An enemy hath done this. The servants said unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up? But he said, Nay; lest while ye gather up the tares, ye root up also the wheat with them. Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but gather the wheat into my barn.

³⁶ Then Jesus sent the multitude away, and went into the house: and his disciples came unto him, saying, Declare unto us the parable of the tares of the field. ³⁷ He answered and said unto them, He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man; ³⁸ The field is the world; the good seed are the children of the kingdom; but the tares are the children of the wicked one; ³⁹ The enemy that sowed them is the devil; the harvest is the end of the world; and the reapers are the angels. ⁴⁰ As therefore the tares are gathered and burned in the fire; so shall it be in the end of this world. ⁴¹ The Son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that offend, and them which do iniquity; ⁴² And shall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth. ⁴³ Then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. Who hath ears to hear, let him hear. (Matt 13:36-43)

From the beginning there have been but three sources of spoken words; Those of God, those of man, and those of the Devil. Those Words of God are altogether words of righteousness.

Those words spoken by men are of a mixture of righteousness and wickedness. Those words spoken by the Devil are altogether wicked words. The words of men may be righteous insofar as they reflect the Words of God, but more often human words reflect the words of that old Serpent of the Garden at Eden. Weeds grow in wild and uncultivated fields, and these are the choice fields of Satan; however, that old devil loves most the planting of his seeds of discontent in the good soil among the Seed of promise. It is in this soil that they gain the greatest attention and regard. He fashions his words to bear a subtle resemblance to those of God but, in reality, they conjure up the opposite emotions and foster murderous intentions. They may so resemble, yet contradict the true Word, that their progeny may be almost indistinguishable from the true. The Word of God is all-powerful, and those of Satan possessed of great and evil influences, but the word of man is most often empty and impotent to achieve good. As Pope has said: “Words are like leaves; and where they most abound, Much fruit of sense beneath is rarely found.” Today’s text continues the narrative on Seed and seeds.

Today’s text is divided into two parts. The first presents us with the Parable of the Good Seed (Word) sown in the Sower’s field. The second part provides an explanation for the first part.

Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man which sowed good seed in his field. The field is the Sowers field. There is one that is a usurper and trespasser and who sows in fields that are not his rightful ownership, but the Good Man of this Parable sows in His own Field. Who is the Sower and what does this field represent? He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man; The field is the world. God owns the Universe and every galaxy of suns therein, and the earth is His and all who live there upon. There truly are no fields but those which belong to the Lord. Wherever Satan sows, he is an intruder on stolen property. Many of the hearts of men are stolen property – taken by the wiles of the devil for his own from the Gentle Hand that made man. God knows His own from before the foundation of the world, but Satan is happy to take the dross. “The soil corresponds to the human heart, the seed to the divine element in the sowing. Now it is in the seed that the whole mystery of life on earth is entwapped. This mystery modern science has intensified far beyond what men in the age of the parables could have imagined. We now know that the actually living part of such seeds is wonderfully smaller, and in fact, at first is to the unaided eye invisibly hid in the mass of apparent seed, for this consist mainly of a store of food for the true seed within when it shall begin to grow. It is, therefore, at a seed that all attempt materialistic explanations of life find themselves baffled. Every living thing, be it an oak or a whale, has to begin its individual existence as a unicellular organism, a microscopic speck.

To the biologist, therefore, it is a much greater thing when it exists as a vanishing-point of matter, than when it has attained to the vast bulk of mature development, for by that time it has outgrown and spent many of the potencies which were in it at the beginning. In that small beginning not only every after-development is already determined to finality, but it also contained the stored-up inheritance of untold generations." (Dr. W.H. Thomson, Parables and Their Home)

But while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way. There is no negligence here in the fact that men slept, for they must. The one (Devil) who came in darkness, which is his natural time, and sowed tares among the wheat is not only the enemy of the Sower but also of the wheat (fruit of the good Seed).

But when the blade was sprung up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also. So the servants of the householder came and said unto him, Sir, didst not thou sow good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares? These tares appear right in the midst of the people of God – not where one would expect them. The servants of the householder (God's ministers) are surprised to see these wicked among the righteous in the Church. Remember those fowl that stole away the Seed by the way side? These are those wicked fowl among the branches of the Church. We shall address this more in the Parable of the Mustard Tree. He said unto them, An enemy hath done this. The servants said unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up?" To open or close the door of the Ark of Salvation is the sole prerogative of the Lord. It may seem proper on the part of those charged with the oversight to dismiss completely those whose character falls short of that of a true Christian, but man cannot judge the heart. When there are those in our midst whose living seems far from that expected, we cannot boot them from the church short of grievous and public sin. "But he said, Nay; lest while ye gather up the tares, ye root up also the wheat with them. Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but gather the wheat into my barn. As we have read in Revelations 20:9-10 how the Camp of the Saints was compassed about by the legions of the Devil, and God rained fire down from heaven on them and they were cast into the Lake of Fire. After this, comes the White Throne Judgment. So the tares will be taken up by the angels of God first and burned, then shall the harvest of wheat be gathered.

Then Jesus sent the multitude away, and went into the house: and his disciples came unto him, saying, Declare unto us the parable of the tares of the field. Those who love God's Word more than others are privileged to receive it more directly. Christ sends the multitude away and resorts to the house where His disciples inquire of the meaning of this last Parable. The best place to be is always alone with Christ and away from the multitude, or "Far from the Madding Crowd!"

He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man; The field is the world; the good seed are the children of the kingdom; but the tares are the children of the wicked one; The enemy that sowed them is the devil; the harvest is the end of the world; and the reapers are the angels. As therefore the tares are gathered and burned in the fire; so shall it be in the end of this world. No better explanation of the Parable than this that Jesus gives is possible. Let me make one point about the tares in any man's field. My wife, who is a dedicated gardener, told me during our morning walk how important it was not to simply pull the weeds out from the soil of the garden, but the roots must be removed as well else those same weeds will grow again in the next season. This is true of personal sins as well. Not only must the consummating act be eliminated, but the sinful urge that motivates the sin, too. We are incapable of that elimination, but there is One on whom we can call to take away that motivating urge. If we allow our hearts to be so greatly filled with the Good Seed of God, there will be no space found for the tares to be planted.

Truly, the tares appear much like the good until they are ready to produce fruit. The tares are the children of the wicked one, who are filled with his Spirit, live according to his principles, and are under his control. They are not a degenerate form of virtue, but as distinct as virtue and vice. They often resemble the good till the fruit begins to appear, but they are as different as wheat and tares, as thistles and roses.

The Son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that offend, and them which do iniquity; And shall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth. Then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. Who hath ears to hear, let him hear. To the horror and dismay of those limp-wristed moderns who deny Christ will ever treat sinners with harshness, Christ will have all who work iniquity gathered and burned at the Last Day. It is likely that these wonders of limp-wristed theology shall populate the same fires. Do you hear and read the words of Christ? Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.

*Sermon – Reverend Jack Arnold - Time and Action
Church of the Faithful Centurion
Descanso, California*

Today's sermon brought the Collect, Epistle and Gospel together and is partly contained in the forewords above.

Consider these words from the Collect:

... keep thy Church and household continually in thy true religion; that they who do lean only upon the hope of thy heavenly grace may evermore be defended by thy mighty power ...

In the Collect, we are asking God to keep His People (that is US) in line with His Wishes, not our own, so that we might be defended by Him. We of course need the Holy Ghost to help keep us in line with His Wishes, to enable us to be defended by Him. We need to be acting in accordance with His Will before He can defend us. We cannot expect Him to defend us from the slings and arrows of this world if we will not line up behind Him. This is a pretty simple concept, but one that escapes so many. We find God being blamed by people who do what they want, not what He wants them to do.

Our problems are not caused by God or by following Him, they are caused by us and not following His will and guidance. We find that if we follow God and do what He asks, our problems will be more easily solvable than if we do not. However, on the flip side, if we do not follow God and His Word, then we find that our problems are never solved and it makes our life here on Earth much harder than if we turn to Him.

The truth of the matter is that it is not God we should blame; the blame rather lies with us. We are the cause of all our problems due to our inherent nature of pride, vanity, and other aspects of our sinful fallen nature. We need His help to cure us of this dreadful sickness known as Sin. It is not a surprise a lot of Jesus's miracles were healing of various long suffering people with sickness. In a way, they are of themselves allegorical, He heals us of our sins, as He healed them of their physical sickness.

Sin is of course a sickness, a spiritual one, and it is like cancer in that there is really no cure for it without God's intervention. God's intervention is of course the Holy Ghost, who will not come in unless invited. So, in order to be healed of our sins, we need to recognize we have the sickness and refer to the appropriate physicians, the Holy Ghost and God, for treatment.

The treatment He prescribes is to accept the guidance of the Holy Ghost and the reading and digesting of Holy Scripture. This multi-step process will be one constantly repeating through ought our entire lifetime until we are called Home to be with Him. While we will never be able to fully stop sinning while we are here on Earth, He expects us to limit the sinning to the best of our abilities.

When we do fall out of step from time to time with the great physician's instructions, we are called to return to Him, repent and do our very very best to go forth and sin no more. This means we have to renew our efforts continually to not walk in sin and darkness and to follow the narrow, uphill lighted path towards Heaven.

Paul reminds us that God wants us to treat others as we would be treated; having "a heart of compassion, kindness, humbleness of mind, meekness, long-suffering; forbearing one another, and forgiving one another..." Jesus forgave us, stood in our place, accounted us (who are guilty of capital crimes) as perfect. We are no more worthy than the next human being to get into heaven on our merits alone. Our merits do not outweigh our multitude grave offences we have committed by the virtue simple fact we are sinners. Yet, we want to hold a grudge against someone for leaving us alone a few minutes too long. How is that right?

In addition to being forgiving, we are to be sharing of His Word and joyful while doing it! Let us think about Psalm 100, the Jubilate Deo:

O BE joyful in the Lord, all ye lands: * serve the Lord with gladness, and come before his presence with a song.
vBe ye sure that the Lord he is God; it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; * we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.
O go your way into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise; * be thankful unto him, and speak good of his Name.
For the Lord is gracious, his mercy is everlasting; * and his truth endureth from generation to generation.

Does this psalm not give a lot of insight into how we are to live our lives?

So, what if we choose not to live our lives God's Way, but rather our way? Did you ever notice weeds normally flourish far above the crop plants? While they oft succeed in growing taller and quicker, they are not useful. They bear no benefit to a farmer's harvest and they contribute absolutely nothing to the nature around them. A wise farmer will let them abide in the field and separate them out at the harvest. God is that wise farmer, who will sift us out before His judgment seat. So, while we still have time, let us repent and turn back to Him and give thanks for His mercy! Jesus reminds us our lives here on earth can be that way. Those who follow the Prince of this World oft soar in earthly riches far above us; when their time here is done, their destination is not the same as ours. In the end, we shall be soaring high above them in Heaven, while they will be in the Pit.

Follow God's will and you will do well enough in earthly riches, which are transient in nature, but we will have for "...ourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal." (St. Matt. vi. 19, 20)

It is our actions here that count, what we do in response to the eternal life Jesus has given us. Will we throw it away or use it wisely?

Error is error, wrong is not right. But, a person's final destination is up to God, not us. We might think certain individuals may be beyond redemption, but their eternal fate is beyond our speculation and is ultimately up to God. During the journey of life down that time space continuum we need to do our best to keep us moving towards God and not away from Him. We also need to keep others around us moving towards Him as well, by the example that we set here. We need to be sure we are setting a good example and not a bad one. The direction is always clear, sometimes we just do not want to read the signs. So, let us trust and turn to God, He is our infallible navigator, if we will but listen to Him and act upon his instructions we shall navigate through every storm and trial in our lives with the least pain.

If we understand we are less than perfect, actually far less than imperfect, we have a good start. We know we need God in our lives to give us direction. We need His guidance to direct our ACTION.

Read the Bible, find out what He wants you to do, then Do It. What can you do today to carry out His Will? There are a multitude of things you can DO to carry out His Will, but the question is, "Will you?"

There is but one way to heaven.

That easy to find, easy to follow, easy to hike path does not lead to the summit where eternal life in the real world awaits. Open your heart to the Holy Ghost, use His Power to follow our Lord to God who awaits in heaven.

The time is now, not tomorrow. The time has come, indeed. How will you ACT?

It is by our actions we are known.

Fifth Sunday after Epiphany
The Lord, He is God

Psalm 112 • Habukuk 1:12-2:4, 9-14 • Luke 12:35-48

The Fifth Sunday after the Epiphany.

The Collect.

O LORD, we beseech thee to keep thy Church and household continually in thy true religion; that they who do lean only upon the hope of thy heavenly grace may evermore be defended by thy mighty power; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Psalm 112. Beatus vir.

BLESSED is the man that feareth the Lord; * he hath great delight in his commandments.

2 His seed shall be mighty upon earth; * the generation of the faithful shall be blessed.

3 Riches and plenteousness shall be in his house; * and his righteousness endureth for ever.

4 Unto the godly there ariseth up light in the dark- ness; * he is merciful, loving, and righteous.

5 A good man is merciful, and lendeth; * and will guide his words with discretion.

6 For he shall never be moved: * and the righteous shall be had in everlasting remembrance.

7 He will not be afraid of any evil tidings; * for his heart standeth fast, and believeth in the Lord.

8 His heart is stablished, and will not shrink, * until he see his desire upon his enemies.

9 He hath dispersed abroad, and given to the poor. * and his righteousness remaineth for ever; his horn shall be exalted with honour.

10 The ungodly shall see it, and it shall grieve him; * he shall gnash with his teeth, and consume away; the de- sire of the ungodly shall perish.

The psalmist wrote about the man who would be blessed. What type of blessings would he have? What things did he do to receive these blessings? Why was important to know about these blessings and from whence they came?

We don't naturally do good. We tend to take care of self or self-interest first, sometimes just to the point of nothing else. Why should we help others? What have they don't for us that they should deserve some type of goodness or help?

The first thing that the psalmist tells us, the one who honors or has respect for the Lord and seeks the goodness of the Lord's commands, he shall be blessed.

There will be blessings for being upright and honest. Good will come to him who is generous and lends freely, who conducts his affairs with justice. In other words, he who is upright, kind and generous, who is honest and just in all things concerning daily life, he will have good come to him. And how about a legacy. Surely....a righteous man will be remembered forever.

The next verse gives us hope in an unsettled time. "His heart is secure, he will have no fear; in the end he will look in triumph on his foes." Nothing will add terror to his heart, he can look at the future and not fear it.

The man who has been blessed is to share with those less fortunate and in doing so will bring honor on his name. We don't give to the poor to call attention to ourselves, we do it because we have been blessed.

9 He hath dispersed abroad, and given to the poor. * and his righteousness remaineth for ever; his horn shall be exalted with honour.

The psalms cover praising God, remembering his glorious majesty, looking to a future of hope and peace, asking for guidance and wisdom. There are so many life dealing object lessons in the psalms, I recommend a daily reading of one or two of the psalms a day. In many of these songs (psalms) that David wrote the form is very familiar. There is a part that may deal with the sadness or distress that is invading David's soul. Then there is the joy and redemption that is revealed or longed for in the Lord. David will point out that many follow their own way, to their destruction, but he will follow the Lord.

Try reading through the Psalter each month. The psalter for each day is listed as day one, two, etc. Psalm 149 & 150 are on Day 31. If you alternate morning and evening readings, just once a day you can read all 150 in a two month period. Each time you read a psalm you will find something different. Each time you include the psalm in your daily reading you enrich your devotion time with the Lord.

They are so meditative, being written mostly by David, who spent hours watching sheep and being on guard for predators. He sat for hours watching the natural wonders of the heavens. He noticed the patterns in the stars, he noticed the waxing and waning of the moon, the yearly parade of stars that would appear like clockwork over his head. David wrote of these greater and lesser lights (sun, moon, and stars) in a number of his psalms. The natural order spoke to him of a supernatural order, the Master, Creator, Almighty God the Father of the Universe.

If you read the first three chapters of the letter to the Romans, you will see a similar use of the natural world being used to point to the supernatural wonder; God the Father, Jesus his Son, and the Holy Spirit.

The pagan, the non-believer has no excuse to not know God. His Universe, His Creation speaks of Him, every precise creation. Let us look at the butterfly. The butterfly, from egg, to larva (an eating machine) to cocoon to a completely transformed creature, a flying insect of great wonder, that drinks its meals, not destroying it as it did as a larva; this all speaks of a divine creator. How can a butterfly be chance, or an evolving mistake? It takes some faith to believe in a science that as of yet has the answers to creation or at least origin of this natural world.

Psalm 119:105 ff “Thy word is a lantern unto my feet, and a light unto my paths. I have sworn, and am steadfastly purposed, to keep thy righteous judgments.”

If we reflect on this verse we don't necessarily see so much significance to it. We have grown up in a world of artificial light. We have street lights, lamps in our homes, our vehicles have headlights, small powerful flashlights, we are pretty much able to conquer the darkness. Now read the verses with the idea of NO artificial light. There are still places on this earth where darkness is still a real danger.

When David was writing this he was pointing to the ever illuminating Word of God, that lamp, that light which would help him in the darkest of nights to find the way. Yes we are talking spiritual, but it was well illustrated by the deep black darkness that occurs even to this day, where there is no artificial light. Now we can sing that chorus with a deeper understanding:“your word is a lamp to my feet that I might not sin against thee, that I might not sin, that I might not sin, that I might not sin against thee.”

Let us pray:

ALMIGHTY God and heavenly Father; Open thou our eyes that we may see ourselves to be sinners in they sight, partakers of a fallen nature, and actual transgressors against thee. Enable us to realize our continual need, both of thy pardoning mercy and of thy quickening grace, and to receive Jesus Christ as the only Savior of our souls. May we trust in his atonement, and rely on his intercession, as our only hope. Rejoicing in thy free salvation, and renouncing our own righteousness, may we walk in the way of thy commandments, serving thee faithfully, and striving against every sin; through the grace that is in Christ Jesus our Lord Amen

Fifth Sunday after The Epiphany

Amos 5:14-27

SEEK good, and not evil, that ye may live: and so the Lord, the God of hosts, shall be with you, as ye have spoken. ¹⁵ Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish judgment in the gate: it may be that the Lord God of hosts will be gracious unto the remnant of Joseph. ¹⁶ Therefore the Lord, the God of hosts, the Lord, saith thus; Wailing shall be in all streets; and they shall say in all the highways, Alas! alas! and they shall call the husbandman to mourning, and such as are skilful of lamentation to wailing. ¹⁷ And in all vineyards shall be wailing: for I will pass through thee, saith the Lord. ¹⁸ Woe unto you that desire the day of the Lord! to what end is it for you? the day of the Lord is darkness, and not light. ¹⁹ As if a man did flee from a lion, and a bear met him; or went into the house, and leaned his hand on the wall, and a serpent bit him. ²⁰ Shall not the day of the Lord be darkness, and not light? even very dark, and no brightness in it? ²¹ I hate, I despise your feast days, and I will not smell in your solemn assemblies. ²² Though ye offer me burnt offerings and your meat offerings, I will not accept them: neither will I regard the peace offerings of your fat beasts. ²³ Take thou away from me the noise of thy songs; for I will not hear the melody of thy viols. ²⁴ But let judgment run down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream. ²⁵ Have ye offered unto me sacrifices and offerings in the wilderness forty years, O house of Israel? ²⁶ But ye have borne the tabernacle of your Moloch and Chiun your images, the star of your god, which ye made to yourselves. ²⁷ Therefore will I cause you to go into captivity beyond Damascus, saith the Lord, whose name is The God of hosts.

The Book of Amos presents an apt example of the warning: "Be careful what you ask for because you just might get it." That expression has been used in times past to provide a dose of reality regarding any choices we might have before us. Some of you may remember the old sixties' song "Take Time To Know Her" which detailed the sad result of not thinking through the issue of marriage. It is a song about a one-sided love affair that turned into a nightmare and all because the young man entered into that union "unadvisedly, or lightly" (1928 BCP, p.300). He got what he wished for, but it was more than he bargained for.

Or how about the desire of a person to purchase an automobile— especially one that has an appealing color, appointments, and image— with little consideration for the cost. And "cost" entails more than just the sticker price. As a rule, there are the usual accompanying costs of maintenance, insurance and taxes. If one thought about those things for a moment beforehand, such a reflection might save that person a good deal of anxiety later. No doubt you have heard the sentiment, "When the new wears off, all you are left with is payments." Sad to say, many will heed the illusion of their desires without fully counting the cost. Our Lord once advised, For which of you, intending to build a tower, sitteth not down first, and counteth the cost, whether he have sufficient to finish it. Lest haply, after he hath laid the foundation, and is not able to finish it, all that behold it begin to mock him, saying, This man began to build, and was not able to finish (Luke 14:28-30).

The English pastor, Matthew Henry, once noted that, "When we take upon us a profession of Christianity, we are like a man that undertakes to build a tower... Let [him] consider that it will cost [him] the mortifying of [his] sins, even the most beloved lusts. It will cost [him] a life of self-denial and watchfulness, and a constant course of holy duties. It may cost [him his] reputation among men... Nothing is more shameful than for those that have begun well in religion to break off."

God wants us to temper our desires with the reality of their true worth. Consider Verse 14 of our lesson in Amos wherein the LORD said, Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live. We have been called to gauge our behaviors and acquisitions via his righteous laws, and to therefore judge them as being either acceptable or unacceptable in his sight and not simply our own.

Verse 15 of chapter 5 amplifies the above when the prophet proclaimed, Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish judgment in the gate: it may be that the LORD God of hosts will be gracious unto the remnant of Joseph. God reminded the people that they must extend their judiciousness to all aspects of their daily lives— individual as well as corporate— and that if they would do so, he would have mercy upon those who would live accordingly. As Christians, we have been admonished in Scripture to self-judge and to confess to God our sins and trespasses. The apostle Paul reminded the Corinthians in his first epistle, For if we would judge ourselves, we should not be judged (11:31). And this goes hand in hand with his admonishment of the Galatians when he wrote, that those who belong to Christ, have crucified the flesh with the affections and lust (5:24).

In Verses 16-17 of Chapter 5 of the Book of Amos we find the LORD's approaching judgment for Israel would cause many to wail and cry. Some of them would reason that it was the end of all things (1 St. Peter 4:7). And on account of the promises God had given their forefathers, they falsely expected him to rescue them from their enemies in spite of their godless lifestyles. Not so! The LORD gave the prophet the following message in verses 18-20 which would shatter that illusion when he said, Woe unto you that desire the day of the LORD! to what end is it for you? the day of the LORD is darkness, and not light. As if a man did flee from a lion, and a bear met him; or went into the house, and leaned his hand on the wall, and a serpent bit him. Shall not the day of the LORD be darkness, and not light? even very dark, and no brightness in it? The plague of captivity was coming and God would not lift his finger to protect them from it because they had broken his laws and were not sorry that they had done so. Also, the false prophets of their day had convinced the people that peace and safety were before them and that what the LORD's prophets had said would not come to pass (see Jeremiah 23:13, 16-18, 21-22, 31-32; Ezekiel 13:1-3, 10-11, 15-23).

Even today, careless sinners would rather listen to false teachers and ministers whose speech is smooth and soothing as it comforts them in their sinfulness rather than prompting them to have those sins expunged by our Lord. However, there is grave danger for those who choose to remain under the influence and sway of false professors. The early 20th century Bible teacher, Arthur Pink, once observed that, "The time of the sinner's opportunity for fleeing from God's wrath is exceedingly brief and limited. The sad and tragic thing is that so few realize it. The sinner sees little cause for alarm and fails to apprehend his imperative need of promptly accepting Christ as his Saviour. He imagines himself secure. He goes on in his sin, and because judgment against an evil work is not executed speedily he increases in his boldness against God. But God's ways are different [than] ours. There is no need for God to be in a hurry— all eternity is at His disposal. When one man robs another, instantly the cry is raised, "Stop thief!" lest he should soon be out of reach... But it is different with God. He is in no haste to execute judgment because He knows the sinner cannot escape Him. It is impossible to flee out of

His dominions! In due time every transgression and disobedience shall receive a just recompense of reward (Hebrews 2:2). Because there is wrath, beware lest He take thee away with His stroke (Job 36:18). The immediate reference is to death—the removal of the sinner from this earth to suffer the vengeance of eternal fire... “

The final verses of Amos Chapter 5 (vv. 21-27) express how God felt about the people's worship of him. The law provided the Israelites with the details for wholesome and reverent worship of the LORD. In every instance, the people were supposed to bring their hearts to worship and honor God and not just their bodies. Yet they came before him in arrogance thinking he did not see them as they truly were. Their offerings, their songs of praise and their religious duties involved will-worship and self-aggrandizement. It was all about them and for them and not the very LORD and God who had provided them with all that they possessed.

Clearly, the Israelites had by and large deserted the LORD their God: who had brought them out of bondage in Egypt and into the land of promise. It is likely that many simply went through the motions of godly worship while afterwards they went to some high place or grove and worshipped the so-called “hosts of heaven”. So when the true prophets of God told them that they were in error and needed to repent and change, some were persecuted and some were killed by the very people they had been sent of God to warn. As the prophet Amos so noted the words of God, Woe unto you that desire the day of the LORD! to what end is it for you? And given the state of their souls, his return at that point in time would have been disastrous for them even more so than the coming of any earthly enemy.

And what of people today? Haven't some called upon God to return and “make the world safe for democracy”, or grant them “freedom from fear”, or “a full dinner pail” or “a great society”? Are those not the very things that the superficial Christian, the Christian in name only, or the progressive Christian desire? When indeed our Lord returns to judge this world it will be a day of terror for the unregenerate like nothing that has ever been seen before and never will be again. But we who have been born again of the Holy Ghost have not been called to face God's wrath. And others need not face such if they will come clean by making their confession before the Father of their sins and trespasses in the name of his only begotten Son. In that vein, we ought to encourage all who have not done so to seek our Lord's cleansing power. Strive to enter in via the strait gate and narrow way which leads to everlasting life. Only by being born again in Christ Jesus can one be saved, so come before his throne of grace and ask for his pardon. If we should ask for anything that would be it. It is not too late. Accept the free gift of salvation in Jesus Christ and live.

Let us pray,

FATHER assist us by means of thy good Spirit to pray for what you would have us do in thy service; and keep us also on the path of life eternal; all of which we ask in the name of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ. Amen.

Have a blessed week, Bryan+

After Church Hospitality

We would like some pictures of your after service gatherings. Come on! Help out!

People in our Prayers - <http://faithfulcenturionprayerteam.blogspot.com/>

Why? Prayer is an extremely important activity.

It is not that God knows not our needs, for He surely does. Yet, Jesus commanded us to ask God for those same needs. In addition to the obvious of asking God for help, offering thanksgiving and the like, prayer helps us focus our thoughts on how we might do God's work.

The Prayer Team of the Anglican Orthodox Church was established to help our members and fellow Christians pray for those in need and to give thanks as well for the blessings we have been granted.

Who can be on the list? Do I have to be a member of the Anglican Orthodox Church to be prayed for?

No! The only qualification to be on the list is that you want our prayer team to pray for you. We are Christians and are happy to pray for you, no matter who you are. If you want help from God, you are our kind of people.

What is the commitment from the prayer team?

Each member of the team will pray for the desired outcome at least once per day.

How do I get myself or someone else on the prayer list?

You can email one of the prayer team leaders: Jack - jack@faithfulcenturion.org or Dru - dru@faithfulcenturion.org, or call the office at (619) 659-3608 or fill out a prayer card at your church.

What should I ask for?

Depends on what you want. Some people merely want God to be asked to heal their ills and be mentioned by their first name, others want a specific outcome and / or have more of their personal information known to the team. Ask for what you want. It is your desire and need for prayer the team is attempting to meet. For typical examples, see the list below.

Updating the Team

If you are on our prayer list, or if you have submitted a person that you have asked us to pray for, please update one of the team members or Hap in person, by telephone or email. It helps to be able to pray specifically for these individuals including their specific needs; plus if they get better, it is nice to give thanks!

Please note that on the yellow (maybe green or orange if you get an old one) cards at church, you can ask that those to be prayed for have their names disseminated to the prayer team. Those names will be said in church and appear here. Or, you can ask that their names and purpose be kept confidential, then only Hap will know to pray for them.

Prayer List Notice – If you have someone on the prayer list and their needs have changed, please let us know. We'd like to update our prayers to reflect the need and most important to give thanks!

For Our Country

Our country has lost its way. Over half the people that vote, voted for a government that promises them things it cannot deliver in return for their souls which it can, will and does take. Our foreign policy backs the rise of Islam, we turn our backs on those who would follow God and arm those who murder them. Pray God will raise up a leader from among the people who can turn the country's course 180° and attempt to come back to God. Pray the people will recognize that they are headed down a smooth wide road into the pit, a road that will get smoother and smoother, steeper and steeper until the only possible way is down. Down, into the depths of the pit. Pray people will recognize there is:

- One True and Triune God who is goodness in and of Himself
- All religions are not equal
- All ways of life are not equal;
- The Bible holds the Key to Life;
- All rights come from God, not the State;
- Good;
- Bad;
- Evil;
- Right;
- Wrong;
- Allah is the Devil;
- Abortion is no more than sacrifice of children to Baal.

Pray this recognition will not come too late. Pray we will, each of us, do our duty to God, Country and Family, putting His Honor above all.

Persecuted

The Islamist group (ISIS) took over Quaragosh, the biggest Christian city in Iraq; 164 men, women and children were beheaded. People ask where is God? The real question is where are the people to enforce God's will? Pray the people of the world will see Allah for who he is, the Devil. Pray for those who remain behind that they might find a way to safety.
