Ninth Sunday after Trinity

Sunday Report

Today was the Ninth Sunday after Trinity in the Endless Green Season.

On Point

Someone asked, where do the quotes come from? The answer is from the people who uttered them. But, how did you find them? Oh, that. Some from Bishop Jerry, many from Rev Bryan Dabney, a few from other places, some from Rev Geordie Menzies-Grierson, but overall mostly from Bryan. He always has some great ones to share. On to the On Point quotes –

What a vast distance there is between knowing God and loving Him!

Proverbs 3:13

I will feed my flock, and I will cause them to lie down, saith the Lord GOD. I will seek that which is lost, and bring again that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which is sick: but I will destroy the fat and the strong; I will feed them with judgment.

Ezekiel 34:15-16

St. Mark 8:33

I told you, and ye believed not: the works that I do in my Father's name, they bear witness of me. But ye believe not, because ye are not of my sheep, as I said unto you. My sheep hear my voice, and I know them and they follow me.

St. John 10:25-27

The gospel will not cause peace and agreement wherever it comes. We are not to think it strange if the gospel rends families asunder and causes estrangement between near relations. It is sure to do so in many cases because of the deep corruption of man's heart. So long as one man believes and another remains unbelieving, so long as one is resolved to keep his sins and another desirous to give them up, the result of the preaching of the gospel must be division. For this the gospel is not to blame, but the heart of man. There is a deep truth in all this which is constantly forgotten and overlooked. Many talk vaguely about unity and harmony and peace in the church of Christ as if they were things we ought always to expect and for the sake of which everything ought to be sacrificed. Such persons would do well to remember the words of our Lord [in St. Matthew 10:34- 38].

The Go-Between

Propers

Each Sunday there are Propers: special prayers and readings from the Bible. There is a Collect for the Day; that is a single thought prayer, most written either before the re-founding of the Church of England in the 1540s or written by Bishop Thomas Cranmer, the first Archbishop of Canterbury after the re-founding.

The Collect for the Day is to be read on Sunday and during Morning and Evening Prayer until the next Sunday. The Epistle is normally a reading from one of the various Epistles, or letters, in the New Testament. The Gospel is a reading from one of the Holy Gospels, Matthew, Mark, Luke and John. The Collect is said by the minister as a prayer, the Epistle can be read by either a designated reader (as we do in our church) or by one of the ministers and the Holy Gospel, which during the service in our church is read by an ordained minister.

The propers are the same each year, except if a Red Letter Feast, that is one with propers in the prayerbook, falls on a Sunday, then those propers are to be read instead, except in a White Season, where it is put off. Red Letter Feasts, so called because in the Altar Prayerbooks the titles are in red, are special days. Most of the Red Letter Feasts are dedicated to early saints instrumental in the development of the church, others to special events. Some days are particularly special and the Collect for that day is to be used for an octave (eight days) or an entire season, like Advent or Lent.

The Propers for today are found on Page 200-203, with the Collect first:

The Ninth Sunday after Trinity.

The Collect.

GRANT to us, Lord, we beseech thee, the spirit to think and do always such things as are right; that we, who cannot do any thing that is good without thee, may by thee be enabled to live according to thy will; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Epistle came from Paul's First Letter to the Corinthians, the Tenth Chapter beginning at the First Verse. Paul reminds us we have a common past, regardless of our actual lineage. Spiritually, we are descended from the Jews of the Exodus. Their God is our God, their actions were directed by our God, the same God. He was a Trinity then as He is today. Their reality is our reality, whether we choose to understand or accept it. Our forefathers drank of "the same spiritual drink; for they drank of that spiritual Rock that followed them: and that Rock was Christ." Those who have gone before provide examples, both good and bad. In this letter Paul addresses the bad and suggest we should see what their ill behavior gained them before we set our course and not after. And, let we think ourselves ever so special, he reminds us that we are subjected to no special temptations, only those "as is common to man." This is another example of the adage, Those who are ignorant of history are doomed to repeat it.

BRETHERN, I would not that ye should be ignorant, how that all our fathers were under the cloud, and all passed through the sea; and were all baptized unto Moses in the cloud and in the sea; and did all eat the same spiritual meat; and did all drink the same spiritual drink: for they drank of that spiritual Rock that followed them: and that Rock was Christ. But with many of them God was not well pleased: for they were overthrown in the wilderness. Now these things were our examples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things, as they also lusted. Neither be ye idolaters, as were some of them; as it is written, The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play. Neither let us commit fornication, as some of them committed, and fell in one day three and twenty thousand. Neither let us tempt Christ, as some of them also tempted, and were destroyed of serpents. Neither murmur ye, as some of them also murmured, and were destroyed of the destroyer. Now all these things happened unto them for ensamples: and they are written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the world are come. Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall. There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it.

Today's Holy Gospel started in the Fifteenth Chapter of the Gospel according to St. Luke, beginning at the Eleventh Verse and recounts the story of the prodigal son. A man has two sons, the older is a wonderful young man who strives to please his father in everything he does. The younger son asks for his inheritance, now rather than later, and sets off to spend it wastefully in a far off land. In dire straits, he decides to go home to his father and beg to be allowed to live as one of his servants. He decides to tell his father, "Father, I have sinned against heaven, and before thee, and am no more worthy to be called thy son..." Before he can get the words out of his mouth, his father welcomes him, gives him new clothing and calls the servants to prepare a fatted calf for a big party. The elder son is very angry and hurt. He asks his father what he did wrong; he followed his instructions every day to the best of his ability, worked hard, and yet his father had never even given a small party for him. The father answered, saying, "Son, thou art ever with me, and all that I have is thine." "It was meet that we should make merry, and be glad:

for this thy brother was dead, and is alive again; and was lost and is found." This story, like that of the workers in the vineyard has a number of meanings. Like the father in the story, God wants us to be His faithful child, but rejoices when we return to Him. Like the prodigal son, we should be grateful to live long enough to return to Him. If we are like the oldest son, let us learn from his mistake and be joyful when our brothers and sisters come home to our family. Let us join in the celebration and not begrudge the fatted calf.

JESUS said, A certain man had two sons: and the younger of them said to his father, Father, give me the portion of goods that falleth to me. And he divided unto them his living. And not many days after the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country, and there wasted his substance with riotous living. And when he had spent all, there arose a mighty famine in that land; and he began to be in want. And he went and joined himself to a citizen of that country; and he sent him into his fields to feed swine. And he would fain have filled his belly with the husks that the swine did eat: and no man gave unto him. And when he came to himself, he said, How many hired servants of my father's have bread enough and to spare, and I perish with hunger! I will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and before thee, and am no more worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of thy hired servants. And he arose, and came to his father. But when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him. And the son said unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight, and am no more worthy to be called thy son. But the father said to his servants, Bring forth the best robe, and put it on him; and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feet: and bring hither the fatted calf, and kill it; and let us eat, and be merry: for this my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found. And they began to be merry. Now his elder son was in the field: and as he came and drew nigh to the house, he heard musick and dancing. And he called one of the servants, and asked what these things meant. And he said unto him, Thy brother is come; and thy father hath killed the fatted calf, because he hath received him safe and sound. And he was angry, and would not go in: therefore came his father out, and intreated him. And he answering said to his father, Lo, these many years do I serve thee, neither transgressed I at any time thy commandment: and yet thou never gavest me a kid, that I might make merry with my friends: but as soon as this thy son was come, which hath devoured thy living with harlots, thou hast killed for him the fatted calf. And he said unto him, Son, thou art ever with me, and all that I have is thine. It was meet that we should make merry, and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is alive again; and was lost, and is found.

The Ninth Sunday after Trinity.

The Collect.

GRANT to us, Lord, we beseech thee, the spirit to think and do always such things as are right; that we, who cannot do any thing that is good without thee, may by thee be enabled to live according to thy will; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

AND he said, A certain man had two sons: ¹² And the younger of them said to his father, Father, give me the portion of goods that falleth to me. And he divided unto them his living. ¹³ And not many days after the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country, and there wasted his substance with riotous living. ¹⁴ And when he had spent all, there arose a mighty famine in that land; and he began to be in want. ¹⁵ And he went and joined himself to a citizen of that country; and he sent him into his fields to feed swine. ¹⁶ And he would fain have filled his belly with the husks that the swine did eat: and no man gave unto him. ¹⁷ And when he came to himself, he said, How many hired servants of my father's have bread enough and to spare, and I perish with hunger! ¹⁸ I will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and before thee, ¹⁹ And am no more worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of thy hired servants. ²⁰ And he arose, and came to his father. And they began to be merry. (Luke 15:11-24)

This is the last of a trilogy of parables the Lord offers for the comfort of the lost sinner and the dismay of the scribes and Pharisees.

As you will recall, each of these three parables is addressing the issue of being lost – the lost sheep, the lost coin, the lost son. Each cast a different light on the state of lostness.

The sheep is like a little child with no means to direct its path, but must be led by a parent, or shepherd. It has no foresight, no self control, no bad or evil intent. It wanders away due to a lack of knowledge and vision. The Shepherd will leave the ninety and nine to go in search of this little lost lamb. It becomes His great obsession to find it. Thank God that Christ will never leave us for the greater numbers. He cares deeply for each of His own.

The second parable describes a woman who has lost one silver coin out of the ten she possesses. It seems a small loss compared with the nine remaining; however, this one lost coin becomes the center of her attention. She takes a candle and searches into the late hours of the night, she sweeps and garnishes her home in a desperate search for this lost coin.

This coin can represent those who are ignorant of their lost estate. They have no mind of their own, and are unable to think clearly. They are as good as dead:

And you, being dead in your sins and the uncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened together with him, having forgiven you all trespasses; (Col 2:13)

And you hath he quickened, who were dead in trespasses and sins; 2 Wherein in time past ye walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that now worketh in the children of disobedience: 3 Among whom also we all had our conversation in times past in the lusts of our flesh, fulfilling the desires of the flesh and of the mind; and were by nature the children of wrath, even as others. 4 But God, who is rich in mercy, for his great love wherewith he loved us, 5 Even when we were dead in sins, hath quickened us together with Christ, (by grace ye are saved;) 6 And hath raised us up together, and made us sit together in heavenly places in Christ Jesus: (Eph 2:1-6)

And now he gives us this third parable of the prodigal Son who was the apple of his father's eye, was owned by him as his son, and who rebels and becomes lost to his father.

He desired his inheritance early beyond the provision of the law (at death of the benefactor).

The father, being full of love for his son, overlooked his childish desire and complied with his request.

The son, not many days after, gathered his new found wealth and went off into a far country – perhaps Alexandria, Rome, or Babylon.

Material wealth became more important to this youth than the father's love.

When he had established himself in the far country, he lived lavishly, squandering his money on riotous living. When we go out of the Will of our Father in Heaven, we will likewise squander our resources on frivolity and sinfulness. When we find ourselves out of communion with the father, we have gone off into a far country – far from the father's oversight and provision.

xThe very last verse of the book of Joshua describes our state of rebellion:

I*N those days there was no king in Israel: every man did that which was right in his own eyes. (Judg 21:25)*

N*OW it came to pass in the days when the judges ruled, that there was a famine in the land. And a certain man of Bethlehem Judah went to sojourn in the country of Moab, he, and his wife, and his two sons. (Ruth 1:1)*

It is clear from the above passages that the result of living according to our own desires, and not those of God, results in a famine of both spirit and sustenance.

The young man began to be in want. When we have spent all seeking joy apart from our Father, we, too, will begin to be in want – in grave need.

When we become desperate, we seek help beyond ourselves even if it is from a stranger.

A stranger cares nothing for our well-being. He will only use and abuse us. But we, like the sodium element in salt, will always be joined to something else whether it be God or mammon.

This young Jewish lad found himself feeding pigs. Pigs are classified as unclean by the Holy Bible, yet this young man lived among them and even coveted their food. What a depth of depravity to which to sink.

He was doubtless filthy and his clothes stank of the waste of pigs and dirt.

AND when he came to himself, he said, How many hired servants of my father's have bread enough and to spare, and I perish with hunger! (Luke 15:17)

No child in his right mind deserts his parents and goes off into a far country. No sinner is in his right mind when he is away from God.

God calls such persons 'fools.' In Psalm 14:1 – the fool hath said in his heart, There is no God."

When we awaken to our lost estate – separated from loved ones, from home and hearth – we are perishing from a hunger that grips our souls and will not be satisfied with anything except a return to home.

We begin to recognize the value of love and truth. We hunger in our being for our Father.

When one awakens to his lost condition, he must resolve to make a remedy to it. Before his feet will move in the proper direction, the idea must be born in his heart, soul, and mind.

So, the young man determines what he must do, first by a mental resolution:

IWILL arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and before thee, (Luke 15:18-19)

We must repent of our great evil.

AND am no more worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of thy hired servants.

(We must recognize our depravity.)

And our new found hope and resolution must be followed by a willingness to act upon them.

AND he arose, and came to his father. (Luke 15:20)

He returned to the Father who had been patiently awaiting his son's return. He had knowledge of the son's great wickedness, yet, he never gave up on his beloved son. He sat and mournfully watched the same sad road on which his son had departed – days he waited, months passed by, and finally years – yet his father sat and waited. Watched and hoped.

He knew the son must return of his own volition and not be forcefully returned to him. His heart was weary with worry. His eyes heavy with the loss of sleep in his worries, but he watched the Road.

BUT when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him.

One day, as the old man watched, he saw a small speck appear on the horizon where the road topped a distant hill. Something inside him leapt with hope. Could it be his son. The man was old, and his vision poor, yet, hope had made his vision keener to see his son.

Suddenly, with certainty, the old man recognized the careless gait, the casual shuffle that identified his son even though he was a great distance away. No matter how far we go out of God's Will, he watches and waits. And when he spots us returning – even though at a great distance – he knows us, and rushes to meet us.

He could not contain himself. He jumped to his feet and started to run toward the visage. Though old and failing, his great joy overcame his aged deformity.

You will remember this son was penniless and smelling of the hog pen, yet, his father fell on his shoulders, ignored the terrible odor, and even kissed his son. When love is strong, the superficials matter not.

AND the son said unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight, and am no more worthy to be called thy son. (Luke 15:21)

It is only when we are aware of our unworthiness, that the Lord can receive us – dirty and smelling as we all are.

The son followed through with his previous resolution. He repented to his father and told him that he was no more worthy to be his son.

The love of the father stopped his ears from hearing of the unworthiness of the son. That was not important to the old man. The only thing that mattered at all is that the son was home at last.

When a lost son or daughter returns to God, he doesn't ask how dirty you have been, or how far away you have gone from Him. He simply is overjoyed at your home-coming.

BUT the father said to his servants, Bring forth the best robe, and put it on him; and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feet: ²³ And bring hither the fatted calf, and kill it; and let us eat, and be merry: ²⁴ For this my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found. And they began to be merry. (Luke 15:22-24)

Note the gifts of the father:

ROBE

A robe designates worthiness.

IWILL greatly rejoice in the LORD, my soul shall be joyful in my God; for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, he hath covered me with the robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom decketh himself with ornaments, and as a bride adorneth herself with her jewels. (Isa 61:10)

He covered the filth of his son with a beautiful robe.

RING

A ring signifies authority. He gave his son his own authority to act.

AND Pharaoh took off his ring from his hand, and put it upon Joseph's hand, and arrayed him in vestures of fine linen, and put a gold chain about his neck; ⁴³ And he made him to ride in the second chariot which he had; and they cried before him, Bow the knee: and he made him ruler over all the land of Egypt. (Gen 41:42-43)

AND the king took off his ring, which he had taken from Haman, and gave it unto Mordecai. And Esther set Mordecai over the house of Haman. (Esther 8:2)

SHOES

Shoes demonstrate liberty.

In the days of Rome, the first item taken from a captive were his shoes. This reduced his freedom to run away. When a captive was set free, his shoes were returned signifying his liberty of movement.

In Christ, our sins are covered by His white robe of righteousness.
We are commissioned and given authority to preach the Gospel.
We are let loose from the chains of sin that bound us and are made free.

Please remain in the house of our Lord, but if you wander away, remember He is vigilant to find you and to receive you though He will not come to you as long as you persist in a "Far Country."

Sermon – Rev Jack Arnold – Time and Action Church of the Faithful Centurion - Descanso, California

Today's sermon tied the Epistle and Gospel together talked, as is oft the case, of the need for action, not simply diction, the general content is in forewords above.

Consider the words from the Collect, wherein we ask God to give us ... the spirit to think and do always such things as are right; that we, who cannot do any thing that is good without thee, may by thee be enabled to live according to thy will ...

This is kind of a follow-on to last week's Collect. We are asking God to give us direction so we might know right from wrong and follow the right way. If we listen to our hearts and minds, like the aviator, mariner or adventurer without a compass, we will soon be hopelessly lost. With the compass God gives us we can find the One True Way, much like the compass always points North.

The Collect acknowledges without God's intervention through the Holy Spirit in our lives we cannot do anything that is good or right. Indeed, our own very natures prevent us from doing what is right. Our nature is inclined towards being away from God, but with the help of the Holy Spirit, we can reset our nature to be towards God. We just have to ask for His help and not just ask for it, but willingly receive it. By receiving, I mean that we have to be willing and ready listeners, ready to listen to what He wants us to do, and then act upon that. We must let His will be our will. We have to put aside what we want to do, and put what God wants us to do in the forefront. This is a very difficult matter, a concept we have always struggled with.

This is nothing new. As Paul reminds us we have a common spiritual past, regardless of our actual lineage. Spiritually, we are descended from the Jews of the Exodus. Their God is our God; God directed their actions. He was a Trinity then as He is today. Their reality is our reality, whether we choose to understand or accept it. Our forefathers drank of "the same spiritual drink; for they drank of that spiritual Rock that followed them: and that Rock was Christ." We are like them in that we stubbornly, due to our own nature, resist His will. We murmur and grumble, when in fact we should be praising Our Father Almighty. We are also like them, in that if we do not look up to Him who was lifted up on the cross, like Moses lifted up the snake in the wilderness, we will perish. However, if we will look up to Him who was crucified on the cross, and believe on Him and His Name, we shall be saved. By looking up, we also are to believe on Him and His Resurrection and acknowledge that without this event, we would not be saved.

He also points out with God's help there is no temptation we are not able to withstand. We just have to call upon His Name and follow His Way out of it. He will always provide us with an escape route from whatever difficulty we are facing. We may not like it sometimes, but His Guidance is always the best path to follow in the end.

Those who have gone before provide examples, both good and bad. We should aspire to follow the good examples of those who have gone before and not the bad examples that they left behind. In this letter Paul addresses the bad and suggests we should see what their ill behavior gained them before we set our course and not after. We should not strive to emulate the murmurings of the people, though we may feel that way sometimes, as we can learn from their bad examples. We must see their bad examples and do not emulate those; on the other side, we must see the good examples, and strive to emulate them.

Following after the Jews, we should strive to not incorporate those bad examples, but the good examples into our lives. And, lest we think ourselves ever so special, he reminds us we are subjected to no special temptations, only those "as is common to man." Every man on this planet is a sinner who desperately needs help, every bit as much as the next, albeit likely in differing ways. In sin, all are equally lost to death, unless they accept the saving grace of Jesus Christ. Which is to say, common to everybody within the human race who is not Christ, which is all of us. This is another example of the adage, "Those who are ignorant of history are doomed to repeat it." It is an old saw, but one as valid today as the first time it was used.

That is a reason the Old Testament should be read and reviewed and compared to the New Testament, to see where we came from, how we got here and where we should go next. It works like a process flowchart, from the beginning from Adam, down through the various figures of the Old Testament, the flowchart ends at the arrival of Christ and the Holy Ghost, and in our redemption. Analyzing this flowchart, we can see our temptations and sins are nothing new, and sins are a waste of our spiritual life. We must practice continuous improvement, kaizen as the Japanese called it, and or Total Quality Management of our spiritual life.

Just like Total Quality Management requires each and every member of the organization work together to achieve quality and serve the needs of the customer, so too, do the Scriptures require all believers work together, to serve the needs of those we serve, namely other believers and the Church. We must continuously improve ourselves in our day to day lives, not just in the church, but in our business and personal lives. This is the message Paul is conveying to Corinthians, we must see how our forefathers acted, emulate their good qualities and dispose of the wasteful, bad, sinful qualities. We must continually improve upon ourselves throughout our lives. We must continually work on turning our bad qualities into good qualities. Only God, the Holy Spirit, and Christ can really provide us the spiritual guidance we need to do this. We must trust that they will give us the correct guidance when needed.

Speaking of lessons, when Saint Luke recounts the story of the prodigal son we oft think ourselves as that prodigal one returning to God so late in life. Yet there is far more to be learned than the titular son.

Consider the two sons. The older is a wonderful young man who strives to please his father in everything he does. The younger son asks for his inheritance, now rather than later, and sets off to spend it wastefully in a far off land. In dire straits, he decides to go home to his father and beg to be allowed to live as one of his servants. He decides to tell his father, "Father, I have sinned against heaven, and before thee, and am no more worthy to be called thy son..." Before he can get the words out of his mouth, his father welcomes him, gives him new clothing and calls the servants to prepare a fatted calf for a big party. The elder son is very angry and hurt. He asks his father what he did wrong; he followed his instructions every day to the best of his ability, worked hard, and yet his father had never even given a small party for him. The father answered, saying, "Son, thou art ever with me, and all that I have is thine." "It was meet that we should make merry, and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is alive again; and was lost and is found."

This story, like that of the workers in the vineyard has a number of meanings. Like the father in the story, God wants us to be His faithful child always, but rejoices when we return to Him. Like the prodigal son, we should be grateful if we live long enough to come back to Him. We should recognize when we have erred and strayed from our ways like lost sheep; as soon as we recognize that, we should immediately return to Our Lord in prayer, asking for His forgiveness. Like the father in the story, our Lord will warmly welcome us back with open arms.

The moral of the older son's story is that we should not be jealous of those returning to Christ's flock after years away, but instead, be more like the father and rejoice when one of the lost sheep comes home to us. For jealousy is something that will chip away at our hearts and make us into less kind people and more evil. But genuine love and affection can only make us into a more kind and better people. So let us learn from the older son's mistake and not be jealous or hold a grudge against the lost for having been lost, but rather, rejoice in the act that they have been saved.

The moral of the younger son's story is that God is always waiting for us, and if we are not too late, we can always return to Him. Today preferably, rather than tomorrow! He will always accept us with opening arms, but we must make sure it is not too late. Don't wait until you die! If you feel you have erred and strayed, repent now! Do not put off until tomorrow your repentance. If you are led by the Holy Spirit to repent, please do it today, you may not live to see tomorrow.

Do not let the sun go down on your sins and wrath, you may not live to see another day! On the other hand, consider the oldest son, let us learn from his mistake and be joyful when our brothers and sisters come home to our family. Let us put aside the anger and jealousy and replace those hurtful emotions with the emotions of pure love and joy! Let us join in the celebration and not begrudge the fatted calf. We should not be jealous or angry when our long lost brethren return to the flock of Christ! We should be merry and joyful they have returned to us! Do not let your pride become anger and cloud your emotions like it does so many of us. But, rather see a sinner coming back into His flock and rejoice in he is no longer headed towards The Pit!

Action counts. For by their actions ye shall know them.

Heaven is at the end of an uphill trail. The easy downhill trail does not lead to the summit.

The time is now, not tomorrow. The time has come, indeed. How will you ACT?

It is by our actions we are known.

Be of God - Live of God - Act of God

Ninth Sunday after Trinity

A Healthy {Christian} Life
Morning Prayer

Psalms 119:9-24 • Proverbs 4:1-4,20-27 • Hebrews 12:1-13

The Ninth Sunday after Trinity.

The Collect.

GRANT to us, Lord, we beseech thee, the spirit to think and do always such things as are right; that we, who cannot do any thing that is good without thee, may by thee be enabled to live according to thy will; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

When Paul wrote to the church in Corinth he noted a certain health issue. He wrote about those who were sick, some even dead, in spiritual matters. What seemed to be causing all of these health issues? The folk there were not living, breathing, being Christ-followers. They were going through the motions, they were gathering together for “fun, food, and fellowship”, but they weren’t applying the Word to their spiritual lives. Of course, Paul gives the solution. He instructs, pleads, cajoles his readers to flee the decadent lifestyle of the city of Corinth and return to their first love, that of a spiritually healthy folk. Notice Paul doesn’t tell them to leave Corinth, he just tells them to leave behind the sinful, chaotic life-style.

Let us now focus on the readings from the Psalms and Proverbs. In these two passages we read the need to cling to the Word, take heed of the Word, hide it in your heart, meditate on {His} precepts, delight himself in thy statutes, “...do not forget thy Word...”. David writes all of this to make the point “...that I might not sin against thee.” We need to understand the concept of preparing and equipping oneself for the battle combined with removing oneself from the danger zone, then we can see what will help us in our spiritual journey.

It is most important to understand that these actions, these spiritual exercises are to be taken by those who have been redeemed. One cannot be saved (redeemed) by doing these things, they are fully dependent on the saving power of the Holy Spirit. Once a reader understands that concept, then they can move forward in their spiritual journey. We know this to be true in both instances; David writes of his burning desire to seek the Word of God. He writes of his need to heed the Word of God. He writes that he knows that he must also rejoice and praise God for all that He has revealed to David. The biggest clue that this behavior is post salvation can be found in the following passage. “....My soul breaketh for the longing that it hath unto thy judgments...” The unredeemed will not seek God. I liken it to turning on the light in the kitchen of your rented apartment only to observe the cockroaches flee from the light in all directions. Mankind is just like that. They will flee from the Light of the Gospel as it is shined in their direction. Over and over again we read in the Word that mankind is totally dead to the Word. He seeks the darkness, he flees the light.

I venture to say there is enough evidence in the Word of God that man will run from the Word unless they are spiritually made alive by the Holy Spirit. Otherwise they will do the proverbial roach move and head back into the darkness.

We read the equip part of our Spiritual journey in the passages from Proverbs. Again, I make the case that the author is writing to those who are already on the spiritual journey to heaven. He isn't writing to those who are dead, dulled, or spiritually unredeemed. He is writing to those who understand what he is saying:

HEAR, ye children, the instruction of a father, and attend to know understanding. ² For I give you good doctrine, forsake ye not my law. ³ For I was my father's son, tender and only beloved in the sight of my mother. ⁴ He taught me also, and said unto me, Let thine heart retain my words: keep my commandments, and live. ... ²⁰ My son, attend to my words; incline thine ear unto my sayings. ²¹ Let them not depart from thine eyes; keep them in the midst of thine heart. ²² For they are life unto those that find them, and health to all their flesh. [obtain spiritual health] ²³ Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life. [all about daily life] ²⁴ Put away from thee a froward mouth, and perverse lips put far from thee. [flee from evil] ²⁵ Let thine eyes look right on, and let thine eyelids look straight before thee. [stay on the straight and narrow] ²⁶ Ponder the path of thy feet, and let all thy ways be established. ²⁷ Turn not to the right hand nor to the left: remove thy foot from evil. [be careful little eyes what you see, be careful little ears what you hear, be careful little hands what you do...]

Let me remind you beloved. The lesson today is NOT about legalism. We are not talking about adhering to a strict code of conduct, thereby ensuring our salvation. NO. We are talking about what a believer, a Christian, one who is redeemed, is supposed to do in their spiritual journey. Beloved, we are to live the life of Christ. We are to seek His face daily. We are to not stray off the path and do evil. Yes it does happen to a believer. We daily must seek forgiveness, we must daily as the Lord to seek Him. And here in these two passages, one from David's psalm and one from his son Solomon's proverbs are the formula for doing the right thing as far as our conduct is here on earth.

One of the most damning things to hear is what many unsaved say about those whom they perceive as Christians¹. “...well if they act like that outside of church...why should I wake up early and waste my time going to church when I act the same way...” Pretty damning stuff my friend. Does the world see us mirroring Christ? Does the world see us living our lives as those who are redeemed? Does the world see any difference in our lives and actions as compared to those around them?

Beloved, let us take heed and seek the face of the Lord. Let us live for the Lord, daily.

Let us pray:

O GOD, merciful Father, who despisest not the sighing of a contrite heart, nor the desire of such as are sorrowful; Mercifully assist our prayers which we make before thee in all our troubles and adversities, whensoever they oppress us; and graciously hear us, that those evils which the craft and subtilty of the devil or man worketh against us, may, by thy good providence, be brought to nought; that we thy servants, being hurt by no persecutions, may evermore give thanks unto thee in thy holy Church; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

WE humbly beseech thee, O Father, mercifully to look upon our infirmities; and, for the glory of thy Name, turn from us all those evils that we most justly have deserved; and grant, that in all our troubles we may put our whole trust and confidence in thy mercy, and evermore serve thee in holiness and pureness of living, to thy honour and glory; through our only Mediator and Advocate, Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

GLORY be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost; As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

From our enemies defend us, O Christ.

Graciously look upon our afflictions.

With pity behold the sorrows of our hearts.

Mercifully forgive the sins of thy people.

Favourable with mercy hear our prayers.

O Son of David, have mercy upon us.

Both now and ever vouchsafe to hear us, O Christ.

Graciously hear us, O Christ; graciously hear us, O Lord Christ.

O Lord, let thy mercy be showed upon us; As we do put our trust in thee.

THE Lord bless us, and keep us. The Lord make his face to shine upon us, and be gracious unto us. The Lord lift up his countenance upon us, and give us peace, both now and evermore. Amen.

Rev Bryan Dabney of Saint John's Sunday Sermon

We are fortunate to have Bryan's Sunday Sermon. If you want people to come to The Truth, you have to speak the truth, espouse the truth and live the truth. This is really a good piece and I commend it to your careful reading.

Ninth Sunday after Trinity

In Ezekiel 14, a group of Israelite elders came to the prophet seeking the LORD's advice (v.1). The LORD then gave the prophet the following message: Son of man, these men have set up their idols in their heart, and put the stumblingblock of their iniquity before their face: should I be enquired of at all by them? (vv.2-3) Therefore speak unto them, and say... Thus saith the Lord GOD; Every man of the house of Israel that setteth up his idols in his heart, and putteth the stumblingblock of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to the prophet; I the LORD will answer him that cometh according to the multitude of his idols; that I may take the house of Israel in their own heart, because they are all estranged from me through their idols (vv.4-5).

To begin with, God questioned the prophet on whether he should even answer those men on account of their deceitfulness. He then described their idolatry as being a stumblingblock. That word is derived from the Hebrew word mikshowl and can denote an offense, an incitement to go astray, or a cause of failing or falling. God's message here is that the sin of idolatry makes plain the worshiper's state of being with God. Ergo, he cannot realize the love of God, or enjoy his benefits as he has chosen to worship and serve that which is false. For in that error, the idolater has fallen away from the true faith. And yet here they came to enquire of the LORD concerning a particular matter. We call that being "two- faced" down here in the South, as it refers to someone who tells you one thing but will do another. A "two-faced" person cannot be trusted. Our Lord said, No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon (St. Matthew 6:24). For the duplicitous, it is a matter of who can do them the most good at that moment. It might be termed "religious opportunism" as the person so moved is simply looking for "a better deal" or arrangement.

These "opportunists" had come to the prophet Ezekiel thinking he would not know their hearts. In the ordinary scope of things, the prophet would not have possessed such knowledge. But the LORD gave him that insight as part of his message to those men wherein he stated plainly, Every man... that setteth up his idols in his heart, and putteth the stumblingblock of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to the prophet; I the LORD will answer him that cometh according to the multitude of his idols; that I may take the house of Israel in their own heart, because they are all estranged from me through their idols (vv.4-5).

Those who worship idols and then come to God's prophets for his counsel will be counseled, according to the multitude of his idols. Matthew Henry noted that, "the counsel... given them [was] for the preventing of this fearful doom." God was doing them a favor by advising them to come clean and remove their idols from their heart. He called on them to, Repent, and turn yourselves from your idols; and turn away... from all your abominations (v.6). And this applied to not only the house of Israel, but to the stranger that sojourneth among them (v.7).

As with every warning, there was a consequence—a judgment that God would carry out if his will was not obeyed—which the prophet proclaimed: And I will set my face against that man, and will make him a sign and a proverb, and I will cut him off from the midst of my people; and ye shall know that I am the LORD (v.8). God will be against any person who will not be obedient to his word and commandment, and will also make him an example in word as well as remove him from among those who are his own. God's omniscience permits him to know the secret things of men's hearts. Even as those men thought that they might deceive the prophet, they could not deceive him who is above deception.

But what if they had gone to a false prophet instead of Ezekiel? God had an answer for that as well: And if the prophet be deceived when he hath spoken a thing, I the LORD have deceived that prophet, and I will stretch out my hand upon him, and will destroy him from the midst of my people Israel. And they shall bear the punishment of their iniquity: the punishment of the prophet shall be even as the punishment of him that seeketh unto him (vv.9-10). The judgment would have been the same regardless.

In our world today, there are a sizable number of false prophets and false teachers. Some travel about like the snake oil salesmen of old, while others broadcast their nefarious doctrines on various networks both over the airwaves or on cable. Quite a number are in schools and seminaries where they teach the young to reject the truth of God's word written in favor of the "traditions of men". Many have written volumes concerning their questionable doctrines which they sell at their pay-for-view gatherings, as well as on the internet. Sad to say, their followers know more about their false teachings than what's in the Bible.

God's word written contains all that is necessary for salvation and for living the Christian life. My question is, "Why re-invent the wheel when you don't have to?" Our heavenly Father offers every person the opportunity to know of him, and what he desires from each of us. The Bible tells us about those things that God regards as good and acceptable as well as those things which he regards as sinful and abominable. All that is required of us is that we read and heed his prescriptions for life. Reading the works of men or women who are commenting on Scripture is secondary. Only by using the Bible as the rule and guide of our faith and practice can we truly discern the difference between God's truth and the falsehoods of the evil one.

The false prophets of Ezekiel's day were notorious for telling the people what they wanted to hear. Their modern-day counterparts are no different. And God's message to those in the Old Testament— that they would become signs and proverbs as well as being cut off from among the people— should serve as a warning to us that he will deal with the false teachers and ministers of our day. St. Peter tells us that there were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be false teachers among you, who privily shall bring in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord that bought them, and bring upon themselves swift destruction. And many shall follow their pernicious ways; by reason of whom the way of truth shall be evil spoken of. Through covetousness shall they with feigned words make merchandise of you... (II St. Peter 2:1-3).

The apostle noted that false teachers would bring in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord that bought them. Think for a moment about the various the false teachers in today's world. Consider those "faith healers" who actually heal no one; or the "name-it-and-claim-it" pastors who say if God does not give you what you asked for, then you really do not have enough faith in God. Or, maybe you should step up your contributions? Or buy their new book?

Folks, God does not charge a membership fee to be a Christian neither does he command a fee for any healing he extends to a believer. If these so-called healers and evangelists were true to the faith, they would not sell their gifts. Did St. Paul charge for his ministry? Did St. Peter or the other apostles do so as well? Absolutely not! They gave what they had freely. It is one thing to ask for offerings or donations; but to scoop up bucket-loads of money from those who are the least able to contribute, and then lie to them about their condition is twisted and evil. St. Peter reminded the faithful concerning such persons that The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished... (II St. Peter 2:9).

And what about those false teachers who possess certificates and degrees from a seminary or university? Are they to be believed and accepted based upon their earthly credentials? The discerning Christian will judge them based upon the Word of God and not the word of man. If such a person comes to your fellowship with a message that conflicts with the expressed words of Scripture, reject that person and their message. Our Lord expects us to keep ourselves from the camp of the world, the flesh and the devil.

We are expected to limit our fellowship to those who truly believe and accept the Lord Jesus Christ and follow his commandments.

God will one day deal with all who have twisted his word for their gain at the expense of his sheep. We would do well to remember his words to Ezekiel and admonish those around us to avoid the smooth and soothing words of those who would make merchandise of you for their gain in this life but who will forfeit eternal life in God's coming kingdom.

Let us pray,

FATHER we pray that thou would fill us with thy most blessed Spirit, so that in all things we will seek to properly discern the truths of Scripture and avoid the snares of the world, the flesh and the Devil; and this we ask in the name of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. Amen.

Have a blessed week, Bryan+

People in our Prayers - <http://faithfulcenturionprayerteam.blogspot.com/>

Why? Prayer is an extremely important activity.

It is not that God knows not our needs, for He surely does. Yet, Jesus commanded us to ask God for those same needs. In addition to the obvious of asking God for help, offering thanksgiving and the like, prayer helps us focus our thoughts on how we might do God's work.

The Prayer Team of the Anglican Orthodox Church was established to help our members and fellow Christians pray for those in need and to give thanks as well for the blessings we have been granted.

Who can be on the list? Do I have to be a member of the Anglican Orthodox Church to be prayed for?

No! The only qualification to be on the list is that you want our prayer team to pray for you. We are Christians and are happy to pray for you, no matter who you are. If you want help from God, you are our kind of people.

What is the commitment from the prayer team?

Each member of the team will pray for the desired outcome at last once per day.

How do I get myself or someone else on the prayer list?

You can email one of the prayer team leaders: Jack - jack@faithfulcenturion.org or Dru - dru@faithfulcenturion.org, or call the office at (619) 659-3608 or fill out a prayer card at your church.

What should I ask for?

Depends on what you want. Some people merely want God to be asked to heal their ills and be mentioned by their first name, others want a specific outcome and / or have more of their personal information known to the team. Ask for what you want. It is your desire and need for prayer the team is attempting to meet. For typical examples, see the list below.

Updating the Team

If you are on our prayer list, or if you have submitted a person that you have asked us to pray for, please update one of the team members or Hap in person, by telephone or email. It helps to be able to pray specifically for these individuals including their specific needs; plus if they get better, it is our happy duty to give thanks!

Please note that on the yellow (maybe green or orange if you get an old one) cards at church, you can ask that those to be prayed for have their names disseminated to the prayer team. Those names will be said in church and appear here. Or, you can ask that their names and purpose be kept confidential, then only Hap will know to pray for them.

Prayer List Notice – If you have someone on the prayer list and their needs have changed, please let us know. We'd like to update our prayers to reflect the need and most important to give thanks!

For Our Country

Our country has lost its way. Over half the people that vote, voted for a government that promises them things it cannot deliver in return for their souls which it can, will and does take. Our foreign policy backs the rise of Islam, we turn our backs on those who would follow God and arm those who murder them. Pray God will raise up a leader from among the people who can turn the country's course 180° and attempt to come back to God. Pray the people will recognize that they are headed down a smooth wide road into the pit, a road that will get smoother and smoother, steeper and steeper until the only possible way is down. Down, into the depths of the pit. Pray people will recognize there is:

- One True and Triune God who is goodness in and of Himself;
- All religions are not equal;
- All ways of life are not equal;
- The Bible holds the Key to Life;
- All rights come from God, not the State;
- Good;
- Bad;
- Evil;
- Right;

- Wrong;
- Allah is the Devil;
- Abortion is no more than sacrifice of children to Baal.

Pray this recognition will not come too late. Pray we will, each of us, do our duty to God, Country and Family, putting His Honor above all.
